Village nixes apartment buildings on North Ave.

by GLORIA DAVIS

In a unanimous move, the members of the Antioch Village Board turned down a proposal from Michael Erde to build four, eight-flat buildings on four lots on North Ave., east of the Soo Line railroad tracks.

The board's main concern was that Erde did not plan to tear down the two buildings now on the property, but build between them.

"I don't think that putting apartment buildings there is the best use for the property," said Trustee Robert Wilton, explaining his nay vote.

The consensus among some of the board members is that Antioch should guard against becoming too "apartmentized."

Erde's proposal also asked that part of the property in question be annexed to the village and rezoned.

In other business, the board:
—discussed a facade loan ordinance for the buildings in the TIF Dist.
—issued permit to serve alcohol to St. Peters Parish for "Footlights" for the weekends of Nov. 6 and Nov. 13.

Eying weighted grades at ACHS

At the last regular meeting of the Board of Education of Antioch Community High School, President Robert Lindblad informed the board of an Award of Excellence presented by the Illinois Math and Science Academy to the school district in recognition of the commitment to those standards at academic excellence that fosters student achievement and success.

Supt. Gary Allen reviewed the School District Report Card. The report card is scheduled to be mailed to parents of ACHS students and made available to the public on Monday, Oct. 26. Copies will be available for the public in the general office of the high school.

Business Mgr. Ken Wierschem reported that the high school will be the voting place for precincts 13 and 14, for the election on Tuesday, Nov. 3. The specific location will be in the band room of the high school.

In other business, the board:
—approved the rental of the cafeteria for Oct. 26 at 7:15 p.m. for the "Meet the Candidates Night" sponsored by the American Assn. of University of Women. The meeting will be open to the public and it will be a forum for the candidates for the ACHS Board of Education.

—approved the rental of the cafeteria to the Lake County Zoning Board of Appeals for Nov. 18 at 7:30 p.m. The Lake County ZBA will be conducting a public hearing on the revisions to the Lake County Zoning Ordinance.

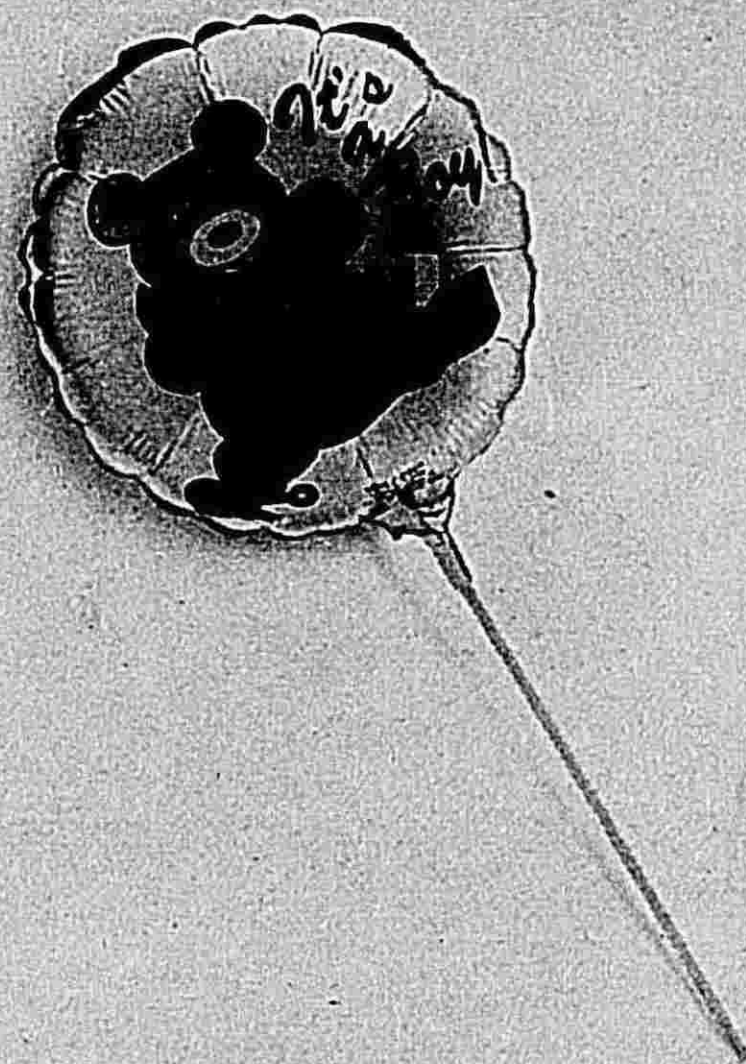

—Principal Art Blecke reported that the school weighted grade committee will be recommending that a weighted grade system be instituted for the 1988-89 school year. Courses to be weighted will be decided in the near future and the weighted grade recommendations will be presented to the board in December.

—Principal Art Blecke also reported that the parent/teacher discipline committee has met and developed some new policies related to school absence and tardiness. The board approved the new policies and the policies will be reviewed with the students in the near future. In addition, a copy of the new policy will be included in the next newsletter.

Pete Pakkarinen, director of pupil personnel services, reminded the board of education and the community that the school offers a full range of special education services to meet the educational needs of all students. Antioch Community High School conducts its own specific learning disability program.

One weekend last spring
through our Maternity Center
we showed 3 soon-to-be siblings
how to hold a new baby, helped an out-of-practice
grandpa deal with a diaper, taught 6 'expecting' couples
about transition breathing
...and revived one very excited,
first-time father.

It was a labor of love.

Nine months can seem like nine years when you're waiting to have a baby. And while you can't plan your delivery date, you can prepare for it.

At Northern Illinois Medical Center, we offer an on-going series of programs and classes that help you understand and enjoy every aspect of the birth experience—from the initial stages of your pregnancy all the way through to your baby's first birthday.

And in addition to taking care of our new 'moms' by providing the latest in obstetric information, birthing plans and medical services, we also have special sessions and support groups designed to prepare the rest of the family for the new arrival.

Especially first-time fathers.

Because we know that newborns can take your breath away . . . in more ways than one.

Carmel girls tour England, France

Twelve students from Carmel High School for Girls participated in a two-week trip to Europe this summer. Sponsored by the American Leadership Study Groups from Boston, Mass., the tour group spent a week in England and another in France.

Participants included Sally Canfield, Marie Cantafio, Lorie Kehoe, Jen Keller, Becky Ledezma, Cheryl Lyle, Dianne Makela, Cheryl Myers, Mae Redila, Nancy Stingle, Sarah Waterman, and Renee Young. Chaperones were Mrs. Mary Betts, French Dept. Chairperson and Mrs. Virginia Quane.

The first week was spent in England. Highlights included lunch at the original Hard Rock Cafe, Madame Tussaud's Wax Museum and seeing the play "Time" starring David Cassidy. A fieldtrip to Oxford and Stratford on Avon was included. The girls saw an outstanding performance on "Julius Caesar" performed by the Royal Shakespearean Players. Leaving London, they traveled to Bath and visited the ancient ruins of Stonehenge. Before sailing for France, they visited the Seafaring Museum in Portsmouth, where the girls saw the hulk of Henry the Eighth's flagship, the Mary Rose, which sank in 1545 and was only recently brought up from the ocean's depths.

The second week was spent in France. Visits to Mont St. Michel, an island monastery since the 9th century, and to many chateaux in the Loire Valley gave the girls a taste of rural France. But the highlight was arriving in the capital city of Paris. Seeing the monuments they had read about "up close and personal" was a real thrill. A daytrip to Versailles, and to the champagne cellars in Epernay were also delightful. The last evening was spent dining in the Eiffel Tower before a trip to the top.

Law gives seniors tax relief

Individuals who are 65 years of age or older this year may be eligible to receive relief from Illinois property taxes paid in 1986, through the Circuit Breaker program.

The law was designed to provide senior citizens with tax relief, as well as to help those who suffer from heart or blood pressure problems, arthritis or diabetes pay for approved medicines. It provides an annual grant for relief from property taxes or mobile home taxes that qualifying senior citizens pay on their residences, including those who rent.

In order to qualify for tax relief, senior citizens must have had a household income of less than $14,000 in 1986 and file a claim before January 1, 1988.

For additional information, or to obtain assistance in completing a Circuit Breaker form, contact Catholic Charities at (800) 942-3930.

Things to know about children flying alone

by JIM WARNKEN

President, North Star Travel, Inc.

Whether it's sending little Joey to Grandma's place for a week or a case of the "ex" getting the kids for the summer, there are times when kids must travel alone. Flying can be confusing to most anyone who has not traveled by plane before, let alone a six-year-old.

Fortunately, the airlines are very experienced in transporting unaccompanied minors and are prepared to get the little darlings to their destination safely and happily. There are still some things one should know before sending their precious cargo on its way.

While individual airlines differ in their policies, none will accept unaccompanied children under the age of five.

Children five through seven years may be accepted on a nonstop or "through" flight (one that makes a stop with no change of planes.) A responsible adult must stay with the child until boarded, and another adult must meet the child at the destination. The person meeting the child must show identification that he is the person named on a travel card issued by the airlines as the person to whom the child may be released. The airlines are very strict about this.

Children eight through 11 may be accepted on connecting flights as well as non-stops. The same rules apply as to an adult putting the child on the plane and one meeting him at his destination. An airline official will assist the child in making the connection.

Unaccompanied children ages 12 through 15 will receive assistance in making connections, but need not carry a traveling card.

If a child has not flown before, visit the airport with him before the trip. Point out ticket counters and airline personnel where he can get help if needed.

Be sure to check the child's ticket to make sure all flight information is correct. Some cities have more than one airport. You wouldn't want Grandma to be waiting at Long Beach and have little Tommy arrive at Orange County!

The usual safety rules apply about talking to strangers. The people he is to seek help from are uniformed airport personnel. If assistance is needed, tell the child not to wait in line. Go to any ticket counter or gate for help.

Air travel is still the safest mode of transportation. By following these few tips, you can be assured of a smooth first flight for our future frequent flyers. (Say that 10 times fast!)

Jaycees will be haunting at new site

The Antioch Jaycees will host their eighth annual Haunted House this year at a new location.

The popular spook house has moved to the old Action Liquors store in the Orchard St. Plaza in downtown Antioch.

The house will be open Oct. 23 through 30. Hours will be 7 to 10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday, and 7 p.m. to midnight on Friday and Saturday. Admission will be $2.50 for those 12 and older and $1.50 for those under 12.

Chairperson Diana Hamilton is very excited about this year's house and its new location. She mentioned that Antioch has been recognized as having one of the best Jaycee Haunted Houses in Lake County for the past several years, and that this one should be even better.

There will be more room in the house. Waiting time should be shorter, and refreshments will be sold, according to Hamilton.

For more information about the Jaycees or the Haunted House, call John Gerhardt, president, at (312)356-5926.

Antioch teachers agree South Pacific enchanting

by GLORIA DAVIS

Three teachers at Grass Lake School in Antioch visited the South Pacific this year, two of them the same country, but all were individual trips, made for individual reasons.

Laura Hersherberger, art teacher, went to view Mt. Fujiama in Tokyo, Susan Hoseman, chapter reading, yearned to see the shrines and Geisha houses of Japan too and Sharon Nubauer made a trip passed her comrades up in distance traveled by visiting the Outback and cities of Australia.

Laura mixed business with pleasure as she accompanied her husband on a business trip for Wohlahan Lumber, a 12-day trip that took the Hersherbergers, not only to Tokyo, but also to Kyoto and on a shopping spree in Hong Kong.

Kyoto, the old and very traditional capital city, was her favorite because of its traditional Japanese flavor.

"I thought that the Japanese people were exceptionally warm and friendly, but I also found that the prices in Japan were very high," she said.

Kyoto's old world aura was also the favorite place that Susan visited on her two week trip to see her daughter who is living there. "It looked just like I expected Japan to look," she said.

She added that Tokyo is much like New York and she was astounded by the masses of people living and working there.

Sharon, who traveled as far away from Antioch as she could before she would be starting back again, combined business and pleasure in a different way. Her seven-week visit to Australia, was to earn 18 hours credit for her masters degree through the University of Wisconsin.

She fell deeply in love with Sidney, the Bush, the Outback and all the rest of the country of kangaroos and Kuwala bears.

"I'd love to go back, I could live there," she reported enthusiastically.

She found the Australian accent completely charming and could understand it quite readily after she had been there awhile.

"The people are great and kids are kids everywhere," she said.

She found the slow paced lives of the Australians peaceful and quite attractive.

We were actually there!

Indians attack buffalo for ACHS Homecoming

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312) 395-6081

It will be the old story of the Indians attacking the buffalo this weekend as the Antioch Sequoits take on the Fenton Bison in their annual Homecoming game. Except for Halloween, the childrens' perennial favorite, Homecoming weekend in Antioch is the favorite fall event with entertainment for everyone.

The Homecoming festivities began Wednesday, Oct. 21 with the Male Beauty Contest and will continue with a pep rally and the 1987 Homecoming Show, 7:30 to 11 p.m., Friday, Oct. 23 in the ACHS North gym.

Included in the program are the presentation of the 1987 Sequoit football teams, coaches and cheerleaders. The Pom Pon squad, Marching Sequoit Band, and "All Night News Boys," a 50's style band will also perform.

David Nolte caught a 30-yard pass; Tim Lehn, now playing tailback, caught a six yarder, and tight-end Jason Ferris caught one from QB Tom Lehn to put the Vikings on Highland Park's one-yard line. Fullback David Nolte took it in for the TD. Kicker Nathan Ovitt kicked for two more points.

In the second quarter Matt Beattie intercepted a pass and stopped Highland Park's momentum. Antioch's defense then took over and held them until the fourth quarter when Highland Park scored on a broken Antioch play with a 50-yard run.

Highland Park was attempting to kick to tie the score but Tim Lehn blocked the kick and got possession of the ball. After that, the Vikings kept possession until the clock ran out.

Defensive standouts were guard Mike Stahmer, cornerback Jason Ferris, safety Tom Lehn and Tackle Nathan Ovitt.

Next week the Vikings

Malson and Larry Denzel will combine their players to form the Seagles.

Come on out and support these young athletes; they are the future of the Sequoit teams.

In the Girl's Iceless Hockey Leagues, results as of Oct. 16: first-second grade: Bruins 5, Blackhawks 1; Kings 4,

Red Wings 1; third-fifth: Rangers 4, Maple Leafs 2; Flyers 6, Sabers 0; Red Wings 5, Blackhawks 3; and Islanders 7, Whalers 2; third-fifth Yellow Division: Islanders 3, Flyers 3; Rangers 3, Bruins 2; Red Wings 4, Whalers 3; and Blackhawks 4, Penguins 2. Happy leaf raking!

Notes & News

There will be a parent and alumni mixer in the Commons with refreshments available throughout the evening. Tickets will be available at the door for $5.

The parade will step off from the ACHS parking lot at 10 a.m., Saturday, Oct. 24 with the sophomore football game at noon followed by the varsity game at 2 p.m.

Dancing to the music of "Audio Dimensions" a deejay with the coronation of the 1987 Homecoming King and Queen will top off an exciting weekend. Tickets for the dance are $3/individual and $5/couple. The dance is from 8 to 11 p.m. with the coronation ceremonies at 8 p.m.

In addition to its Homecoming performances, the Antioch Marching Sequoit Band will complete its 1987 competition schedule at the Sheppard High School competition on Sunday, Oct. 25. In its performance at Franklin Park on Oct. 18, the band outscored all other bands in its class in the musical category but came in third in their overall performance with only 0.8 point separating them from first place. Good luck Sunday!

Not luck, but good statistics, made all the difference as the Antioch Vikings Heavyweight Traveling Team beat Highland Park, 8-6, in a very good, hard fought game.

In the first quarter, linebacker Tim Lehn intercepted a ball thrown from the 50-yard line. A few plays later, tight-end travel to Round Lake with the Lightweights starting at 12:45 p.m. and the Heavyweights at 2:15 p.m. It promises to be a battle.

In other Viking scores: Lightweights 0, Highland Park 2; Seahawks 7, Lake Zurich 28; Bears 26, Mundelein 0; Eagles 13, McHenry 10; Raiders 7, McHenry II 6.

McHenry II scored the only points against the Raiders in their 1987 season, but still lost to them, 7-6, at the Raiders brought their record to a perfect 6-0.

Scoring for the Raiders was QB Jim Lubkeman with the extra point run in by Jim Miller to keep the Raiders on top. Offensive honors to guard Dino Katris and tackle Brad Priller for their good blocking.

Defensively, two interceptions by corner back Bobby Scroggins saved the day along with the blitzing of noseguard Sean Linders. McHenry II also played a very good game with its lone score made on a long pass play.

Next Sunday, Oct. 25, the 1987 All-Star Game will be played at ACHS at 9:30 a.m. Coaches Dave Gedvile and Chuck Grasser will coach the Bear-aids while Bob

Completes

Army Reserve Pvt. Linda A. Kubica, daughter of Myrtle and Rudolph Kubica of Antioch, has completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C. She is a 1986 graduate of Resurrection High School, Chicago.

NOTICE OF INTENTION OF COMMUNITY CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL DISTRICT NUMBER 34, LAKE COUNTY, ILLINOIS TO ISSUE $800,000 WORKING CASH FUND BONDS

Public Notice is hereby given that on the 21st day of July, 1987, the Board of Education of Community Consolidated School District Number 34, Lake County, Illinois (the "District"), adopted a resolution declaring its intention and determination to issue bonds in the aggregate amount of not more than $800,000, for the purpose of creating a Working Cash Fund of the District and availing of the provisions of Article 20 of "The School Code," of the State of Illinois, and all laws amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto (the "Act"). Said fund is to be administered in accordance with the provisions of the Act, and said fund shall be used for the purpose of enabling the District to have in its treasury at all times sufficient money to meet demands thereon for ordinary and necessary expenditures for corporate purposes, namely, to provide moneys with which to meet ordinary and necessary disbursements for salaries and other school purposes in anticipation of the collection of taxes lawfully levied or to be received for educational or operations, building and maintenance purposes; and said fund is to be reimbursed to the extent of funds so advanced when such taxes or other funds shall have been collected or received.

A petition (a "Petition") may be filed with the Secretary of the Board of Education of the District on or before August 17, 1987, said date being within thirty (30) days from the date of the publication hereof, signed by not less than ten per cent (10%) of the voters of the District (i.e., 615 voters), requesting that the proposition to issue bonds as authorized by the provisions of the Act be submitted to the voters of the District at the nonpartisan election to be held on the 3rd day of November, 1987. If a Petition is filed with the Secretary of the Board of Education of the District after August 17, 1987, but within 30 days of the date of publication hereof, the proposition to issue said bonds shall be submitted to the voters of the District at the general primary election to be held March 15, 1988, or in the event that no voter of the District is scheduled to cast votes for any candidates for nomination for, election to or retention in public office at said general primary election, then the proposition to issue said bonds shall be submitted to the voters of the District at the first succeeding election at which any voter of the District is scheduled to cast votes for any candidates for nomination for, election to or retention in public office. If no such Petition is filed with the Secretary of said Board of Education on or before thirty (30) days from the date of the publication of this notice, then said Board of Education shall thereafter be authorized to issue bonds for the purpose hereinabove provided.

Liberty Lakes to villages, Engagement

'Don't tread on us!'

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
Managing Editor

Newton Finn, attorney for the group which is supporting the creation of Liberty Lakes, has sent a pointed reminder to neighboring villages. He informed officials that they cannot annex land which is within the boundaries of the proposed new village until an Illinois Supreme Court decision has been rendered.

The sprawling proposed village, which would encompass most of unincorporated Lake Villa Twp. and parts of Avon, Grant and Antioch Twp., was denied a spot on the ballot by the County Board, acting as election authority. But proponents of the issue appealed to the Supreme Court to hear their case. The case was heard in June and a decision on whether it can go on the ballot is expected any time.

If the court denies the appeal, villages will be able to proceed with their projects as planned. But if the court puts the question on the ballot, no land from the proposed boundaries can be annexed until after election - and then only if it fails.

Immediately affected are a 96-acre annexation by Round Lake Heights and a pending 107-acre annexation by Round Lake Beach.

Round Lake Beach Mayor Carl Schrimpf said that the developer involved in his project, which is just north of K-Mart on Rte. 83 north of Rollins Rd., is aware of the potential problem.

"He is proceeding subject to final resolution of the Liberty Lakes proposal," Schrimpf said.

The project would give approval to 438 residential homes, some single-family and a little over 200 townhomes. Thirteen acres of the project are reserved for commercial development.

The Round Lake Heights project is a little trickier, though. Village officials thought the project, which is northwest of the village, was annexed in 1981. But flaws were discovered indicating that the process was never completed.

Round Lake Heights Mayor Claire Petrick said that their attorney, Martin Waiteman, will be filing a brief on their behalf to the Supreme Court.

"I don't believe the court was aware that there were annexation requests pending at the time Liberty Lakes came up," Petrick said. She noted that her annexation only takes in the far west tip of the proposed new village.

"It does not interfere with the concept and will not cut off any part Liberty Lakes from the rest of this property. Is this personal because some of the people who conceived Liberty Lakes live close to this project?" Petrick asked.

She believes that the court, even if it says yes to an election, may change the map to take into consideration annexation proposals that were pending before Liberty Lakes was proposed.

Finn said that if Round Lake Beach passes its annexation subject to final resolution of the Liberty Lakes proposal, he will not have a problem with it.

"I don't know if such language is legally sound in an annexation ordinance," he said, "but I think that would be acceptable to our people."

Bruce Padbury, a member of the committee supporting Liberty Lakes, said the group has raised $25,000 in the last few months to keep the effort going and will announce another fundraiser sometime in the next few months.

Sundberg-Sens
Marianne Sundberg and Ove Sens announce their plans to marry on March 26, 1988.

The ceremony will be performed by Pastor Harmes at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Des Plaines.

The bride-to-be, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Sundberg of Antioch, is a 1978 graduate of Antioch Community High School. She attended the College of Lake County, and is a crew coordinator for Northwest Airlines in St. Paul, Minn.

Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sens of Rattvik, Sweden, is a 1972 graduate of Addison Trail High School. He attended the College of DuPage, and is a passenger service representative for Scandinavian Airlines in Chicago.

The couple plans to settle in Des Plaines.

Hurry to sign up for November's Share Food

The Antioch Exchange Club introduces a new, self-help way to buy food - the Share Food program. A week's supply (approximately 40 pounds) worth of food is only $14, and includes meat, fruit, vegetables, cereal and canned goods.

Everyone can join each month by paying $14 and spending three hours doing volunteer work in the community for each unit of food.

Any volunteer work one already does will count, whether it's working for Scouts, seniors, school, church, organization, or neighborhood associations.

One can also help distribute Share Food each month at the Park Ave. warehouse, Chamber of Commerce, and School Dist. 34.

Sign-up is now in progress for delivery on Saturday, Nov. 21 at Antioch Twp. Office, Antioch Chamber of Commerce, the First National Bank of Antioch, or the State Bank of Antioch.

For more information, call the Chamber at (312)395-2233.

Accused DUI driver injures himself, others

A 54-year-old Antioch man and also a 27-year old Antioch resident were injured when the car they were riding in went out of control, left the road and hit four wooden poles.

Robert McNamara, 55, and Michael J. Butts, 27, were both hurt when the car driven by John Sybor, 29, Streamwood, Ill., was involved in a one car accident on 122nd St. and 280th Ave. on Sunday Oct. 11.

McNamara remains in Kenosha Memorial Hospital with internal, head and limb injuries. Butts and Sybor were treated and released.

Sybor was cited by the Kenosha County Sheriff's Dept. for causing injury by the intoxicated use of a motor vehicle, DUI and driving too fast for road conditions.

Antioch library receives grant

Northern Ill. Gas presented a $250 grant to Antioch Twp. Library in Antioch to be used for the purpose of purchasing 12 energy related books and library reference materials on the subject of energy.

"The materials acquired through this grant will help students further their Kathy LaBuda, library director, accepted the grant from Fay.

Churchill to seek reelection to House

State Rep. Robert W. Churchill (R-62) has announced he will seek reelection to a fourth term.

The text of his announcement follows:

"My third term in the Illinois House of Representatives commenced with my appointment as House Minority Whip. With appointment to leadership came additional responsibility. I became an ex-officio member of all committees, served on the rules committee and the revenue committee, and was responsible for providing Republican leadership to six committees.

"As the 'Whip,' I communicated party and gubernatorial positions to Republican members during floor debate. I also became the chief negotiator for several issues, particularly those in the area of revenue, transportation, nuclear power and the environment. I was fortunate to be able to work on most of the major issues of the session.

"Locally, I continued my efforts on behalf of the 62nd Dist. and all of Lake County. I worked to keep North Point Marina on target, to bring a dredge to the Chain O'Lakes and to assist our two major state parks. I tried to pass legislation to control stormwater drainage and protect Lake County from flooding. The cogeneration portion of local solid waste disposal finally passed after several years of negotiating the issue. I continued to pursue financial support for our ailing sewer, water and highway systems. I worked tremendously hard to represent the citizens of the 62nd Dist.

"In order to continue that representation and in order to best apply the knowledge which I have learned in my three terms, I have decided to seek reelection to another term. I do hereby publicly announce that I will be a candidate for State Representative and that I will file my petitions to run in the Republican Primary for that office.

"It is with respect for my constituents, concern for all the citizens of Lake County and the State of Illinois, desire to continue the work which I have begun, and a deep sense of satisfaction from public service that I make this announcement and humbly request the continued support of my constituents."

Football benefit

Over $1,000 was raised for United Way of Lake County during the Celebrity Football benefit hosted by Eagle Point Resort in Fox Lake. Many area businesses donated food, refreshments and prizes. On hand to help make the day a success were Lake County Treasurer Red Anderson, Lake County Board Chairman Jim Fields, and County Board member Fred Popp.

Groundwater update seminar

The status of groundwater resources in northeastern Illinois, groundwater management through the Lake Michigan allocation strategy, and occurrence of radium in public water supplies will be the subjects of a one-day seminar on Tuesday, Oct. 27 at the Sheraton Naperville Hotel. "Ground Water Update '87: Ground Water Resource Issues in Northeastern Illinois," sponsored by the Illinois State Water Survey in cooperation with the Illinois State Geological Survey and the Div. of Water Resources/Illinois Dept. of Transportation, the technical seminar is intended to benefit consultants, water superintendents and water managers involved in planning and managing groundwater supply systems in northeastern Illinois. Civic organizations may also find the seminar useful. For more information, contact Steve Hilberg at the Water Survey, 2204 Griffith Dr., Champaign, 61820, (217)333-8495.

IEPA tells Lake County it has three years left

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
Managing Editor

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) has served notice that the Chicago Metropolitan Area only has four years before it runs out of landfill capacity. And Lake County has less than three years to go, according to Jim Pendowski, IEPA Manager of Solid Waste and one of the authors of the report.

That news is particularly significant for Lake County as its Joint Action Solid Waste Planning Agency (JASWPA) does not intend to file a final recommendation until fall of 1988. According to Pendowski, from the time a site application is filed until that site can accept waste, usually two years go by.

So, even under the best of circumstances, Lake County will go right down to the wire before getting any new capacity.

Verna Clayton, mayor of Buffalo Grove and newly elected chairman of JASWPA, says that the agency has known for some time that it is close.

Waste Management of Illinois has filed notice with the county that it will submit an application for a landfill to be sited near Peterson Rd. and Rte. 83 near Grayslake. Waste Management filed an application to put in a landfill and incinerator at that site last year and was rejected by the Lake County Board.

William Plunkett, spokesman for Waste Management, said the application is similar to the one filed last year but does not have an incinerator. Waste Management had intended to file its application last Wednesday, but chose to delay until November.

"We respect what JASWPA is doing," Plunkett said, "but the company cannot afford to wait that long. There are some modifications in our proposal to respond to some of the concerns expressed in that area."

Clayton said that the agency had not expected Waste Management to wait until the final report was out, but had hoped the company could delay its application until some of the agency's consulting reports come in. She expects the first of the reports to be available in January.

In any case, Lake County officials will have to work full speed ahead in order to keep capacity from running out.

(This is the first in a series of articles on the landfill debate. Next week the question, 'Is there any way to extend capacity' will be examined.)

As of April, 1987

Bonds offer hope for future college savings

Today's fast-paced competitive job market demands a well-educated, responsible work force. In the past, hard work and perseverance were keys to success, and while these same qualities—along with a good education—are important to being successful today, a college education is often necessary for students interested in certain careers.

A college degree in 1987 is as commonplace as a high school diploma was in 1957. However, the cost of a college education has not remained as affordable as a high school one. Soaring tuition costs have left many families wondering how they can finance their children's education. Action taken by the Illinois General Assembly this year could help put many parents at ease.

Under a bill approved by the Governor with changes, zero coupon bonds would be available to our state's citizens to help pay for college. The Illinois Baccalaureate Education System Trust Act would allow parents to make long-term investments to help guarantee financial security for their college bound children.

In addition to allowing the sale of bonds, Senate Bill 2 creates the Baccalaureate Trust Authority whose members would advise the Governor and the Bureau of the Budget on the issuance of the zero coupon bonds. The 13-member Authority—comprised of the State Treasurer, appointees of the Governor and the four legislative leaders, the executive director of the state Board of Higher Education, the executive director of the Illinois State Scholarship Commission, the director of the Bureau of the Budget and the director of the Economic and Fiscal Commission—would also study and review other investment plans.

Illinois expects to begin selling zero coupon bonds next spring in a variety of maturities and yields. At this time, the bonds' estimated costs would be at least $2,000 each with the actual price varying according to market conditions. Under a distribution system to be developed by the state, up to $300,000 in General Obligation Bonds will be marketed as College Savings Bonds at times and costs determined by the new distribution system. The program would also exclude the first $25,000 in bonds from the assets used to determine a student's eligibility for financial aid.

The savings program—the first of its kind in the country—offers many benefits to both the state and potential investors. Unlike other pre-paid tuition plans, the bond program has a known and budgeted future liability to the state.

Trust plans which lock students into a specific college or university require the state to make up any difference between trust assets and tuition costs. The college savings bond program also gives students and parents more freedom than other alternative savings plans by allowing bond proceeds to be used at any school. In addition, investors would have state and federal tax-free status on interest earned on the bonds.

Senate Bill 2 in its original form would have allowed bond purchases to be tax-free through an income tax deduction on state income tax forms. However, this would have resulted in a loss of approximately $2.5 million to $6.5 million in tax revenues for every $100 million in bonds sold.

Currently, over 40 states are considering some kind of tuition prepayment plan, with legislation pending in 20.

The future of our state lies in our children. The goal of the Baccalaureate Savings Act is to educate the people of Illinois about the need to save for a college education and to offer them such an avenue.

Lakeland's fall color still around

Although temperatures dropped dramatically during the week, a slight warming trend predicted for this weekend will still allow nature lovers to view much of the fall finery that nature has bedecked herself in for one of her most beautiful seasons. The Lake County-Lakeland area is filled with tree lined streets, avenues and lanes where the crimson, golds and russets are still to seen in wild profuseness. Lakeland Newspapers staff has worked out one of the best routes for foliage fanciers. The main route (indicated in black) will take travelers on a scenic trip through Lake County filled with country, suburban and North Shore estates decorated by autumn's palette. The alternate route (indicated by the broken line) is a shorter trip that includes a fall view of the state park. Follow the map and take an autumn adventure past the Chain O'Lakes State Park, Capt. Daniel Wright Woods, Lakewood Forest Preserve and Van Patten Woods. There will be country roadside stands, offering fresh apples and good old apple cider, as well as the pick of this year's pumpkin litter waiting. Why not pick-up a cluster of Indian corn to decorated the front door, bringing a little of the fine fall colors just experience back home.

Island Lake may join farm supply lawsuit

by JAMES N. MANTZOROS

Wauconda Village Board trustees in executive session approved its attorney's action in filing a lawsuit against Lake-Cook Farm Supply Co. from locating between Wauconda and Island Lake.

"We talked about getting Island Lake's cooperation and we hope we will get it," said Wauconda's attorney Paul Zagoras.

Island Lake Mayor Charles Amrich said that at the meeting on Thursday, he will poll his trustees and see if they want to join Wauconda in the restraining order to stop Lake County authorities from issuing permits.

The 15-acre parcel of land located west of Rte. 12 and Case Rd. in unincorporated Lake County between Wauconda, Island Lake and Volo, was recently given a conditional use permit for an "agricultural supplier's storage and service center" in the agricultural (AG) zone.

Clayton P. Voegtli, attorney for the petitioner, said that Lake Cook Farm Supply wishes to operate a centralized service center where it could store the items it sells prior to pick-up or delivery to its customers. Presently, the Palatine-based farm cooperative also operates a facility in Lake Zurich.

In addition to objections filed by the villages of Wauconda and Island Lake, Volo resident Joseph Bogacz, who also objects to the rezoning of the farmland for industrial use, told that he mailed a letter to the Lake County State's Attorney's office charging that some of the county board members who voted by a voice vote in favor of the proposals are personally interested in the petitioner's case.

County board members opposed to the project and asked that their votes be recorded against the proposal were Dist. 1 Rep. Delores Axelrod of Highland Park, Dist. 2 Rep. Anthony Sedar of Waukegan, Dist. 4 Rep. Norman Geary of Grayslake and Fred Popp of Lake Villa, and Dist. 6 Rep. John Reindl of rural Mundelein.

Ordinance bans all leave burning in Lake County

It is that time of year again...the time when the thought of cleaning up the yard and the burn of leaves overtakes us all. But recent changes in both Antioch Village ordinances and state law prohibit open burning.

Effective last year, the 84th general assembly in Springfield, amended the Illinois Environmental Protection Act to read: "prohibiting of open burning of leaves and related landscape waste in counties with a population of over 400,000. This includes the County of Lake. Such burning is permitted only upon obtaining a permit from the IEPA.

The Village of Antioch has also amended its leaf burning ordinance to eliminate all open burning within the village limits. "In essence," states Asst. Chief Parthun, "the traditional burning of leaves and landscape waste is no longer permitted in our area.

He further commented that he hopes that residents of the village and the township will follow these new rulings. "If they do...perhaps we can eliminate the possibility of unnecessary grass and field fires," he said.

Fire Chief Bill Carney supports these changes and in so doing, wants to remind the area residents of the number of unnecessary field and grass fires that occurred earlier this year.

Questions concerning the IEPA ruling should be directed to their office in Springfield, 1-217-782-5562. If a resident of the village of township has any questions concerning open burning, they can direct them to the Antioch Fire Dept.-Fire Prevention Bureau at (312) 395-8585 or (312) 395-5511.

A safe fall season against accidental fires is the responsibility of each Antioch Twp. resident and Fire Prevention Bureau Chief Parthun asks for everyone's help.

Now's the time to prepare house for winter resale

It's nearly Halloween, and for those planning to put their house on the market this winter, now is the right time to repair the ravages of time and yesterday's weather goblins, advises Robert G. Walters, senior vice president and general manager of Baird & Warner's residential sales group.

"Winter weather doesn't stop people from shopping for a home in the fast-paced greater Chicago market," said Walters, "but it can make it difficult or impossible for owners to do any necessary painting, patching and repairing to get a house spruced up to command the best possible price."

Walters stressed that clean, well-maintained homes command the highest prices in the resale market. "Often it only takes a fresh coat of paint, a thorough inside and outside cleaning and some minor patching to bring a house to a condition where potential home buyers are impressed," he said.

Here are some suggestions from Walters on what home sellers can do during the fall season to prepare their house for a winter sale:

--Fall temperatures are ideal for interior painting. The weather usually is cool enough to paint a room comparatively easily, and warm enough to open windows for speedy drying and banishing the paint smell.

--If the driveway has cracks in it, take advantage of good weather for patching and sealing. You can't count on a blanket of snow to cover the driveway on the day home seekers arrive.

--Clean gutters of leaves and debris so they run free. A clogged gutter can result in the buildup of an "ice dam" after freezing and thawing. The ice dam can eventually push up and damage roof shingles, and the thought of having to repair a roof can scare away potential buyers.

--Rusty gutters should be primed and painted on the outside and coated with an asphalt compound on the inside for extra protection.

--If the outside of the house needs a new paint job, do it now while the temperature is tolerable. A house with peeling, fading or drab paint doesn't enchant prospects.

--Check the heating system to be sure it operates efficiently. It doesn't help to have prospective buyers observe either drafty or overheated rooms.

--Caulking should be checked and replaced, if necessary, around doors and windows and outside water outlets.

--Remember to cover the outdoor air-conditioning unit and to bring in the portable barbeque and outdoor furniture.

Good Shepherd Auxiliary schedules volunteer tea

The Auxiliary of Good Shepherd Hospital is sponsoring an Auxiliary Awareness Tea from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 27, in Good Shepherd's ground floor lobby.

The event is open to everyone who would like to learn more about the Auxiliary, the hospital volunteer program and Good Shepherd's services. The tea also coincides with the auxiliary's annual membership drive, which will be completed Oct. 31.

The Auxiliary of Good Shepherd Hospital is made up of more than 1,100 men, women and teens who provide about 73,000 hours of service to the hospital and auxiliary projects each year. Pledges and gifts totaling more than $2 million are made possible through a variety of fund-raising events sponsored by auxiliary members.

Displays will be set up in the lobby during the Oct. 27 Awareness Tea, with information about various Auxiliary projects including the Catchpenny resale and craft shop in Barrington; the Pear Tree Gift Shop and Pear Tree Cafe and Cupboard in the hospital; the annual Art in the Barn juried art exhibition; the Luv-Ewes arts and crafts group; A-HELP equipment lending program; the Telecare community outreach program; and the Patient Recreation group, which assembles craft kits for patients, makes tray favors and special gifts for pediatrics and the nursery.

Tours of the hospital will also be offered during the tea. Adult volunteers and volunTEENS work in 30 different hospital departments as receptionists, typists, patient escorts, clerks, messengers and handling other duties. Positions are available on a regular, part-time or substitute basis.

"Volunteerism can be a tremendous learning experience for people, a chance to brush up on skills and an opportunity to do something special for someone else."

La Vista blasts myths for Chambers

by GLORIA DAVIS

Dr. Daniel LaVista, the College of Lake County's new president, exploded two myths when he spoke to the general membership meeting of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce this week. A meeting to which Chambers from all over the county were invited.

The first eye-opener was LaVista himself, his appearance, demeanor and the polish of his rhetoric as he introduced himself and spoke on the present and the future relationship of education and business in this area.

No type-cast absent minded professor he, La Vista not only displays the expected knowledge his station requires, but he exudes warmth, wit, and a very "today" attitude towards his school's position.

LaVista, who comes to Lake County from Ohio, has been kept busy for the six months he has been in here handling the "exterior" operation of the college while keeping a vigilant eye on its interior procedures.

"Coming to grips with the people serviced by the college" has been time consuming but rewarding for LaVista, a job made easier by a staff he has complete confidence in.

"The job excitement exceeds the exhaustion," he quips as he describes the college as "a fine ship on a steady course."

LaVista then dealt with what he thought might be the two prevalent questions pondered by his commercial-minded audience, "Who are you (the college)?" and "What have you done for us lately?"

In answer to the first question, he launched into a short narration of the college's 15 years of existence in Lake County by telling of the inception and the growth pattern of community colleges in general since the 1960s.

The second myth was demolished as LaVista told of the evolution of the two-year community extension of high school of 30 years ago into what is now "a real force" in education and in the community it serves.

"Today there are 1,220 two-year colleges across the nation and one out of three post secondary educational institutions is a community college," he said.

Leider's life ties in plants, planes, family

by KAREN WILTBERGER

Steve Leider, owner of Leider's Garden Greenery in Grayslake, has the best of both worlds—he goes to work in Levis and a flannel shirt and leaves in a private jet.

That's what happened last week when Leider and a friend flew to Oshkosh, Wis. for an afternoon snack. Leider is working on his private pilot license, a dream that began in his childhood days when he was helping out at his father's greenery.

"I can take off anytime I want so long as I work 60 hours a week," said Leider. "You can leave for an afternoon, but you know you're going to make it up on a Friday night or a Sunday morning."

Leider's off hours are devoted to pilot lessons and coaching soccer teams for which his three children are players.

On the job, too, Leider lives in the manner he desires. He prefers a low key atmosphere where he dresses casually, works with his hands and runs things the way he wants. He takes only two weeks of vacation a year because after 10 days he's anxious to get back to work.

"We're really laid back. There's no time clock here. The time clock is against the atmosphere that we want to have here. We're a family business," said Leider.

Leider opened the Leider's Garden Greenery, 34755 N. Hwy. 83, in 1973. His employees include his wife, Marti, and his father, Richard Leider, who employed his son when he ran a carnation greenhouse in the late 1960's.

Leider is third generation of his family to own greenhouses. His grandfather opened a vegetable greenery in 1910 in Evanston after he emigrated from Luxemburg.

Leider's greenery houses more than a million plants and flowers. An annual sales schedule goes something like this: 15,000 flats of bedding plants in the spring, 27,000 pots of garden mums in the summer and 5,000 pots of poinsettias in the winter. And without a doubt the Saturday before Mother's Day is the busiest day, he said.

When Leider opened the greenery, 75 percent of the business was wholesale, but today retail business accounts for 70 percent of sales. The greenery is considered to be on the smaller side, but Leider has no intentions of expanding because he enjoys his time after hours.

After growing up around greenhouses (near O'hare), Leider set out to do something different so he majored in engineering. But soon he found himself in horticulture classes. "All through my younger years I told myself, 'I'm not going to do this... I'm going to do something else.'"

After college Leider worked for two years for his father. Then his father sold the business to United Airlines which needed the land for its corporate headquarters. Leider leased the greenery for the last year before it was torn down because his father decided he didn't want to run a business anymore.

"There I saw the other side of the business other than the grunt side. I was able to reap the benefits or pay for my mistakes," said Leider.

Leider believes a combination of experiences makes a successful greenery owner. "You can either get that experience the hard way or the easy way. The hard way is the fellow who likes plants and buys a greenhouse...the easy way is to work for someone else, make your mistakes and let him help you."

Leider looks at education as another experience, rather than a ticket to break into private business. Leider serves on the Board of Advisors of the Horticulture School at the College of Lake County and travels annually to horticulture seminars.

As Leider approaches 40 years old, he looks back and says he somehow knew he would own a greenery one day. "I thought I'd make more money than this by now, but I'm basically real happy at what I do. I'm not looking to buy my next greenhouse," he said.

Pauli Foods
to liquidate
its inventory

Another small business has been driven out by competition from the big chains. Pauli's Supermarket in Grayslake is in the process of liquidating its assets. Owner Dan Spann expects to close within a matter of weeks.

Spann said he had tried for some time to sell the store as a going concern but had not had any success. He noted that a CUB Food Store is going to be built not far from his Grayslake store.

CUB Foods is going into Round Lake and a Dominick's Food Store will be going into Round Lake Beach.

North Point Marina to hold open house Oct. 25

An open house and tour of the new North Point Marina will be held from 2 to 6 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 25, at the facility, located at the east end of Seventh St. off Sheridan Rd. in Winthrop Harbor.

Sponsored by the Dept. of Conservation and the North Point Marina Committee of the Zion, Beach Park, Winthrop Harbor Chamber of Commerce, the open house will feature a hayride tour of the site as well as refreshments. Marina slip rental applications will also be available. The tour and open house are free and the public is welcome.

Scheduled for completion in 1992, the $51 million marina will contain approximately 1,500 boat slips, as well as multiple free launch ramps with parking for cars and trailers, dry boat storage, charter boat and visitor docks, boat sales and showroom, marine service and repair, bait and tackle shop and coffee shop. Plans also call for a hotel, retail shops and a variety of restaurants to be constructed by private developers.

Construction of the marina, which will occupy 145 acres and feature a mile-long breakwater, began in

Oct. 1986. Between 600 and 700 of the 1,495 slips are scheduled to be available for occupancy in April 1989, with all slips scheduled to be finished by the end of that year. The hotel, restaurants and other facilities are scheduled for completion by 1992.

"Construction on the project remains on schedule," said Bill Jansen, marine project director for DOC. "The harbor is currently being dredged, the boat launches are finished and 1,100 feet of the south breakwater and 500 feet of the north breakwater are completed."

The State of Illinois is providing $36 million in project costs, with private developers contributing another $15 million. Of the state's money, $8 million is coming from the boating fund and $28 million from the capital development bond fund, with the monies expected to be repaid from project revenues.

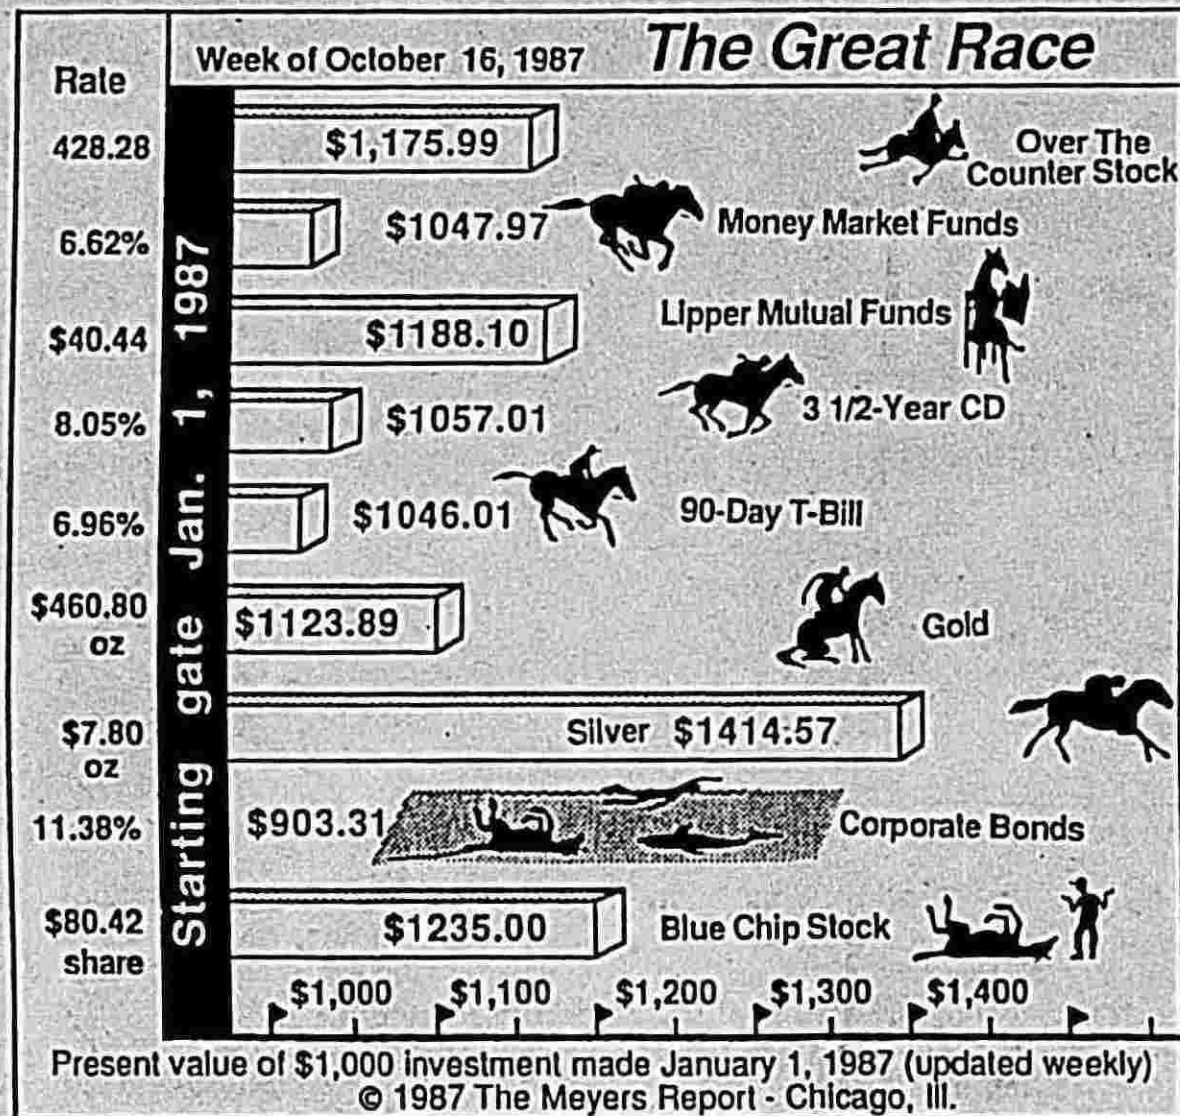

The Department of Conservation began accepting slip rental reservations on June 15, and had received more than 300 applications through Oct. 1.

The marina, when completed, will feature a main harbor and a commercial harbor. The main harbor will have 1,415 slips ranging from 30 to 60 feet in size, while the commercial harbor will have 78 slips ranging from 30 to 45 feet in size. Jansen said all slip lengths are still available, with the exception of the 30 and 35 foot slips in the commercial harbor.

Applications for slips are being accepted on a first-come, first serve basis. A $200 non-refundable deposit in the form of a check or money order made payable to the Dept. of Conservation must accompany each application. The deposit will be applied to the first year's slip rental fee. Slips will rent for $60 per foot per year and include electricity and water service.

Slip applications are available by writing or visiting the North Point Marina office, 1100 Sheridan Rd., Winthrop Harbor, Ill. 60096; or by calling the marina office at (312) 746-2845.

He added that 40 percent of those adventuring into higher education were embarking on that adventure at a community college and that 50 percent of the 700,000 college students presently in schools across the nation were attending community college classes.

He quoted former President Harry Truman, who was instrumental in passing the legislation that brought such institutions into being, as having likened schools like CLC to "the Ellis Islands of higher education."

"We are a people's college that serves everyone from the 18-year-old who wants to be a teacher, to the 30-year-old who has a technical job and has decided he wants more out of life," said LaVista, adding that the mean age at CLC is 29 years old.

He tagged the community's easy access to the college and its classes as a number one plus.

"We serve the yuppy businessman who wants to learn about Chicago architecture while riding the train to work; small businesses that want to become more entrepreneurial and productive and women who are reentering the work force. We supply transfer and technical education," LaVista elucidated.

"CLC is a key linkage between education and business and industry," he added.

He described the college's Economic Development Center which serves businesses all over the county, not only by supplying any needed technical training for employees but also by making available business appraisals and teaching supervisory techniques.

Last year, CLC facilitated the procurement of $8.5 million in government contracts for Lake County businesses by assisting them in writing grant proposals through the school's Procurement Center.

LaVista reported that last year, 415 area businesses used the college's Small Business Development Center for conferences, seminars, etc.

The college also offers informational help to businesses in trouble.

The college president also pointed out the many programs at CLC geared to non-English speaking residents, a program that served 300 area residents with counseling last year and also 1,200 non-English speaking students with secondary language training. The college also places students in jobs.

In closing, he invited the audience to come and visit some of the college's new additions, touting the school's fine science program and facilities and the new conference center, saying "We are as close as your phone and offer many ways to take advantage of the many fine programs we have to offer."

The program ended with Randy Miles, president of the State Bank of Antioch, expounding on the fact that CLC and the community were "very lucky to have a man of Dr. LaVista's caliber."

Florence Babusek, the dinner's chairman, invited the entire audience to attend the Lake County Small Business Conference at the college on Nov. 12, sponsored by the Governor's Small Business Round Table. Lake County Board Chairman Jim Fields will do the introduction. There will be a discussion on the state helping to improve Illinois' business climate and Lt. Gov. George Ryan, area legislators will be in attendance and Bob Burn, president of the North Chicago Chamber of Commerce will speak on "Why Get Involved."

County receives grant from DCCA

Dept. of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) Director Jay R. Hedges has announced that the Lake County Community Action Project has been awarded a $19,885 grant to explore the feasibility of establishing an asbestos abatement company.

"It isn't often that we have the opportunity to assist in the development of a business which can provide jobs and help improve the environmental climate for Illinois residents," said Hedges. "It has been clearly established that asbestos is a significant health hazard. This project will not only economically benefit the state, but will reduce this health hazard."

This award, one of four in the state, represents a new approach to the public-private partnership. The grant is made possible by a new economic development initiative developed by DCCA through the Illinois Home Weatherization Assistance Program.

Funded by the U.S. Dept. of Energy, this new initiative provides local governments and not-for-profit organizations the opportunity to expand upon their weatherization expertise and a new source of revenue to help develop profit-making ventures that will generate jobs for Illinois.

The Lake County Community Action Project is the local administering agency.

"We worked years for our money, now we're making our money work for us."

"We sold our old home and bought our beautiful new manor home on a tax-free exchange. Then we invested the balance — also tax-free. It was the smartest move we ever made, especially since 1987's tax reform left mortgage interest as the last major tax deduction.

But smartest of all is our big new 3 bedroom home with vaulted ceiling, fully applianced kitchen, laundry room, patio, and huge master suite. Plus, maintenance-free living gives us plenty of time to enjoy the swimming pool, clubhouse, and friendly peacefulness of this established community."

IN YOUR OPINION:

1. What can our legislature do to improve the business climate in Illinois?

2. What causes you the MOST PROBLEMS in your business in dealing with the State of Illinois or your local government?

Governor's Roundtable set Nov. 12 at CLC

The state is paying serious attention to the needs and concerns of small business people. The Dept. of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) will sponsor a "Governor's Small Business Roundtable" on Thursday, Nov. 12, beginning at 1:30 p.m. at the College of Lake County Auditorium. A registration form appears left of this article.

Robert Byrne, president of the North Chicago Chamber of Commerce is coordinating the forum and is delighted that it is happening.

"Too often business people are so busy running their businesses that they don't get involved in telling governmental leaders what they need, but there is strength in numbers and if enough people come out, it will have an effect," Byrnesaid.

Most area state legislators will attend the conference as well as County Board members. Lt. Gov. George Ryan, who was a small businessman himself, will conduct the roundtable discussion.

Most of the conference will be devoted to listening to the concerns of the business people who attend. The prime questions that are to be examined are "What can the State of Illinois do to improve the business climate?" and "What causes you the most problems operating your business in the State of Illinois?"

The conference will also focus on such past concerns as worker compensation, unemployment insurance, employee "right to know", government procurement, tax refunds, sales tax, EPA service tax, immigration law requirements, plant closings and liability insurance reform.

Information on where small business people can go for help with their problems will be available as well as resource material on what types of support programs are offered by the state.

For information or to confirm registration, call (312) 223-3615. Registration fee is $5 which includes refreshments.

HEALTH & Fitness

To enjoy better health, relieve mind and body stress

Unexplainable headaches, nausea, neck and lower back pain—anyone recognizing these as familiar complaints is not alone.

Health experts believe stress may be responsible for a variety of health problems, including lower back, shoulder and neck pain, headaches, ulcers, infertility, high blood pressure and even cancer.

Through diet, proper exercise and simple relaxation techniques, the physical and mental symptoms of everyday stress can be relieved or even prevented.

Remember this simple rule of healthy eating: "garbage in, garbage out." To fight the effects of stress, the body must have a dependable and quality energy supply. Begin each day with a good breakfast, avoid caffeine as much as possible, and try reaching for an apple or carrot instead of a candy bar for snacking.

Exercise provides a physical outlet for pent-up emotions, and actually uses up the natural byproducts of stress: increased blood sugar, heart rate and muscle tension. Regular exercise (at least 30 minutes, three to five times a week) will provide the strength to fight off fatigue and illness. Home videos, or even music television, offer an easy, fun way to establish a regular exercise routine at home.

A number of relaxation techniques can help lower blood pressure, decrease heart rate and relax tense muscles.

Deep breathing exercises are one technique. According to Dr. Stuart Litvak, breathing exercises provide the body with more oxygen, allowing one to feel better and experience less stress. Deep breathing, he adds, is an excellent and immediate tension reducer. And it's easy to do. Lie comfortably on the floor and close eyes. Exhale completely, then inhale through the nose to a slow count of six. Exhale through the nose to the count of 12. Repeat six to eight times, and rest quietly for a few minutes.

Hydrotherapy is effective for relaxing the entire body and easing muscle tension. Almost nothing beats a good warm bath or a dip in a whirlpool. If space and budget won't permit an installed whirlpool, consider a portable unit to install in the bathtub for a relaxing, all-over body massage to help wash away the day's stress and temporarily relieve chronic aches and pains.

Another hydrotherapy application is the tried-and-true footbath. Immerse tired, aching feet in a tub of water and Epsom salts, then sit back in a favorite easy chair with a good book.

Mind training through meditation can help one gain control over attention, enabling one to choose what to focus upon instead of being subject to the unpredictable events of daily living. It has the added benefit of helping to control the heart rate, slowing respiration, and decreasing muscle tension. Meditation comes in many forms (transcendental meditation, Chakra yoga, Zen and others) but always uses one of two approaches: a focusing-in of attention, or an opening up of attention. Many books are available on the subject, as well as professional instructors or community health education programs.

Progressive relaxation, commonly known as "tense-relax" exercises, induces nerve-muscle relaxation by first contracting a specific muscle or muscle group and then relaxing it, gradually progressing from one muscle group to the next. The idea is to increase awareness of sensations associated with stress tension and to compare them with those associated with relaxation. In other words, it teaches one to relax.

A final, very important "de-stressing" technique is rest: Get plenty of it. Without enough sleep, a stressed person will quickly deplete valuable energy resources.

Step into health

Senior citizens participate in the Governor's Cup three-mile walk in Boston. Health specialists advocate walking as an ideal means for seniors to maintain good health and independence.

Observe sports safety measures

An ounce of prevention is worth more than a pound of cure when it comes to the safety of cyclists, joggers, campers, boaters and other sporting enthusiasts. Here are some tips to make sport outings safer.

1. Take along a companion when engaging in an outdoor sport.

2. Wear reflective materials when riding, running or walking at dawn, dusk or at night. A variety of these items are available at local sporting goods or automotive products stores.

3. Always bring a small, personal protection horn in the event that you must signal for help.

Elderly feet stay mobile

An active lifestyle is important for the physical and emotional well-being of the elderly. Foot specialists recommend walking as an ideal way to promote good health and maintain independence.

A regular walking program helps reduce stress and maintain muscle tone while stimulating circulation and the cardiovascular system.

The American Podiatric Medical Assn. and Faytex Corp., a leading distributor of advances technology shoe linings and insoles, recommend the following when beginning a serious walking routine:

--See a doctor for a thorough physical examination before undertaking any exercise program.

--Begin slowly.

--Remember, each individual will have his or her own pace and that the body should tell a person when it's time to stop.

--Choose well-fitted, sturdy walking shoes for proper support and comfort.

--Absorbent socks and shoe linings will allow feet to breathe, keeping them dry and comfortable.

--For added enjoyment, choose different routes to add variety and new attractions to the daily walking routine.

--See a podiatrist if experiencing pain or discomfort of the feet.

"Inside Foot Comfort," a free booklet with additional tips on shoes and foot comfort, is available from Faytex Corp., 240 Ivory St., Braintree, Mass., 02184.

Chandler's taking sign-up

Registration for adult and children's fitness classes is now underway at Chandler's Family Fitness Center in Lindenhurst.

The new session starts the week of Oct. 26. Adults classes include aerobics, Body Shape & Tone, and a new class, low-impact aerobics, which provides all the cardiovascular benefits without the jumping.

Adults can also enroll in ballet and martial arts classes.

Chandler's is offering special rates for the aerobics, Body Shape & Tone and low impact aerobics; eight weeks of classes cost just $19.95.

If looking for fun and fitness, stop by Chandler's in the Linden Plaza on Rte. 132.

Body make-up

Body composition can be assessed by weighing a person under water to determine the density of his or her body. Since fat floats, the obese person will weigh less under water than the more muscular person of similar height and weight.

NEW ADVANCES IN BUNION TREATMENT NOW AVAILABLE IN LAKE COUNTY

Dr. Lee Tisa, a local podiatrist with offices located in Waukegan and Antioch, is performing a new surgical technique for the permanent correction of bunion foot deformities.

The technique is based on the Swiss Bone Fixation Principles, which took over forty years to develop and perfect in Europe.

Dr. Tisa states that the advantages of this new procedure are many: 1)Eliminates the need for a cast after surgery. 2)May be done on an outpatient basis, which eliminates costly hospitalization. 3)Enables the patient to resume normal shoe gear in three weeks, other procedures usually take eight to twelve weeks. 4)Immediate mobility after surgery without the use of crutches, walkers, or canes.

Dr. Tisa has been performing this procedure for two years and has written an article which will be published in an upcoming issue of the journal of foot surgery.

With the Swiss Technique Dr. Tisa corrects the bunion deformity by repositioning the bone. The bone is then fixated in the proper position. The patient may exercise the joint immediately, which promotes faster healing and alleviates the usual joint stiffness normally associated with bunion surgery.

If you have any questions regarding this article please feel free to contact the offices of Dr. Lee M. Tisa.

Finally, an answer to foot pain.

Discuss your foot problems and possible treatment options. Free.

Thousands of people are merely "existing" with painful foot problems. We hope that our free initial consultation will encourage you to find the solution to your pain.

Most foot problems become progressively worse if left untreated. Use our free screening to discuss possible treatment options before pain and deformity become harder to treat. With proven techniques available most foot problems can be corrected safely in our office or at local out-patient hospitals with minimal time loss from your normal activities.

Good nutrition is the key to disease prevention

More "classic" than the born-again original cola recipe is the true recipe for good health.

Throughout most of its 50-year history, the National Nutritional Foods Assn. has stood almost alone in believing that there is more to nutrition than the avoidance of starvation or beri-beri. Despite charges of quackery from those who insisted on setting nutritional requirements for all Americans from standardized tables, the health foods industry insisted that good nutrition meant more than simply avoiding deficiency states and that a lifetime of proper diet could play a role in the prevention of disease.

Today, change in diet and lifestyle can reduce the risks of contracting degenerative diseases by as much as 50 percent, claim some experts.

The proper diet advocated by NNFA is high in unprocessed grains, vegetables, fruits and legumes and thus is high in fiber and relatively low in saturated fats. In addition, based on the work of noted biochemist Dr. Roger Williams of the University of Texas and other researchers, NNFA accepts the principle of biochemical individuality and the probability that the individual nutritional needs of hundreds of millions of people cannot be arbitrarily obtained from tables designed for "average" men and women.

It is thus the NNFA and health foods industry in general welcome the growing awareness now shown by other organizations that good nutrition can play a role in the prevention of disease. In recent years, such groups and institutions as the American Heart Assn., the American Cancer Society, the National Cancer Institute and the National Academy of Sciences have urged dietary changes for the majority of Americans. These changes are in the direction of the diet long advocated by the NNFA and its adherents, and are being advocated for the prevention of such diseases as cancer and coronary heart disease. Widespread research is underway on food components which may be protective against cancer (B-carotene, vitamins C, E, B6, selenium and other minerals), or heart and blood vessel diseases (specific unsaturated fatty acids, B6, calcium and other minerals). Nutritional interaction with the immune system is under study, as is the role of diet in affecting behavior in some individuals.

Health spa's ancient mud therapy comes of age

Wet, warm and wonderful, Glen Ivy Hot Springs still mysteriously remains Los Angeles' least known getaway paradise. Hidden away in the Cleveland National Forest just a few miles outside of Corona, it is mostly California natives who learned about the hot springs from their parents and grandparents who are found stretched poolside in the sun.

The quiet in this oasis is thick as sunlight and equally welcome. The grounds extend leisurely back and around in several directions, with a dozen pools, tubs and jacuzzis to explore at your own pace—and for a flat daily fee of $9.75 ($12.50 on weekends and holidays).

Only in one corner of this California spa is the quiet broken—by the peals of laughter coming from the mud bath where L.A. sophisticates are putting mud on their faces—deliberately. All over their bodies, too, a bright red clay that bakes them into something resembling a creature of the Nile riverbank.

The red clay is legendary for its detoxifying properties—Californians swear by it for getting the smog out. Therapists interviewed in the big red wallow gravely defend their muddy antics with claims of regressive therapy: it's OK to be a kid again, playing in the mud your mother forbade.

The current wave of "back to our roots" seems to be including a collective urge to immerse ourselves in primeval substances—hot mineral water, red clay mined from local lake bottoms, and sea algae from the ocean Jung referred to as the great unconscious.

The sea algae body pack has been standard spa fare in Europe for literally centuries, and you can bet the Chinese knew all about it. This is sea algae in a powdered form worked into a paste with French green clay, and smeared by one of the Glen Ivy's professional staff of massagers over the entire body. The person is wrapped up and left to become one with the deep-cleaning, allegedly curative sea algae, while the therapist does heavenly things to the feet. It all comes off while still in an alpha state, with a hydrotherapy massage that is like laying under a warm Hawaiian waterfall.

If heavy athletic workouts or office stress are causing knots, and one longs for plain old straightforward deep muscle massage, Glen Ivy also offers a standard line of Swedish and shiatsu massage, running $360 for a full 50-minute massage. Because Glen Ivy has such a reputation as the last bastion of genuine health and leisure, they've attracted a long-standing staff of some of the top massagers in the state.

Working together as a team, the staff researched and resurrected many of the almost-forgotten European spa traditions, including the eucalyptus blanket wrap, the apricot scrub, and salt glow rub. Bringing many of these treatments into the 20th century has been a matter of locating pure source materials, and development for the luxuriously inclined California culture of today.

However, a purely modern idea has given Glen Ivy its most popular attraction, the solar floating pool. In an invention with roots no deeper than a Brentwood backyard, Glen Ivy has built a sprawling, shamrock-shaped pool presided over by a fountain that keeps the sound of water cooling the ears.

The second slide lecture of the Cultural Forum will feature the works of N.C., Andrew and Jamie Wyeth in "An American Vision: Three Generations of Wyeth Art" on Sunday, Dec. 6. The forum is co-sponsored by the College of Lake County and the Kitchens of Sara Lee.

in Paddock Lake, Wis. for 33 years and over a quarter of a century ago, spurred on by stage experience gained through her 15 years of dance lessons, she started a local theatrical career that has brought pleasure to community theater patrons from all three counties.

She first walked the community theater boards with the now defunct Gaslight Players of Twin Lakes playing one of the nuns in "Sound of Music," and did quite a few productions with the Twin Lakes group along with her two daughters making it a family affair.

She has been on PM&L's stage in Antioch on and off for over 20 years and possesses four awards for best actress in a major supporting role from that group.

A part in the "Boyfriend" drew her to the Haylofters in Burlington and she has been part of several repertoire dinner-theater groups which has given her a chance at emoting in a variety of roles, her forte being the many hilarious Neil Simon characters she does so well.

Local theater goers recognize her trademark, the famous reactionary rolling eyes.

She did a stint many years ago with a group called The Troup under J. J. Butler at the old Antioch Country Club and also worked with Jerry Petra and the repertoire company called Covent Gardens which entertained dinner guests at the Abbey Resort in Lake Geneva.

The Cabriolet in Libertyville, the McHenry Country Club and AARTS at Andre's Dinner Theater in Richmond have all had Allen on their stagebill.

"I guess I've been in about 60 plays over the years and, though it has taken a lot of time and the money (when there is any) does not put me into a multi-figured salary bracket, I really love going from one character to another," says Allen.

Not only has her husband Walter been admirably supportive through all those opening nights, he himself is now involved with her new theatrical venture, Four Star Productions.

Ann Marie Cina and Yvonne Alton, two other very talented familiar faces on the area's theatrical scene, joined with Lillian in forming Four Star last year.

Their husbands, George Cina and Howard Alton along with Walter Allen make up the spousal trilogy that accounts for the fourth star in the name.

According to Allen, the fact that the three ladies could never agree on who was the star of their many productions, led to an equality agreement, ergo the other three stars.

The gals, each a bundle of dramatic energy, all very different personalities, do the acting, directing, costuming, advertising, etc. while the men are in charge of building and taking each play's scenery up and down as the need demands.

Four Star Productions started out at Riptides in Johnsburg, which is now closed, and has moved to the Tamara Royale in McHenry County, with its latest slapstick intimate comedy, "Cookin' With Gus."

Most of the production company's plays are for the luncheon-theater crowd with groups coming from as far away as Yorktown and Riverside which also initiates some scattered dinner-theater shows.

Her favorite part, although she had thoroughly enjoyed doing them all, is that of the toothless Bloody Mary in "South Pacific."

The current production of "Gus" is expected to run in McHenry through January 1988.

Rock Tracks

You would think that after an album which produced three hit singles, Mr. Mister wouldn't be afraid to sing "Hallelujah!" But they were. Richard Page, the group's lead singer, bassist and songwriter (with John Lang) wanted his character in "Man Of A Thousand Dances" to exult, but he didn't want to be misunderstood. "Well, I told Phil (Perry) I was a little nervous about people understanding it, and he looked at me and said, 'The important thing is that the people who don't care won't see it anyway. But the people who do care will. And what you've written here is the truth.' And from then on, I rested easy about it."

Page says the album is "all about asking questions."

During their survey of the entertainment world's top money makers, Forbes magazine projected that U2's 1987 income will total 29 million, more than Paul McCartney and Billy Joel combined. Nonetheless, wealth hasn't spoiled them at all. They humbly give their all during their shows — broken arm and all — devastating full houses with their brand of rock.

Mixing folk music with the power of high voltage rock 'n' roll, U2's approach has not changed much since the group first appeared in the early 80's, managing to grow from clubs to arenas without losing their intimacy or their majesty. Even playing to a huge crowd, U2 establishes an exceptional rapport with the audience through their energy and enthusiasm. Theirs isn't a show to miss.

Matthew Halloween movie treats, no tricks

☒ YES
☐ NO

If you were planning to rent a few 'Halloween horror flix', make yourself a huge bowl of buttered popcorn, put on your favorite sleeping costume, crank up the old tv and stay home Halloween night, I have just what you are looking for. What could that be? My video picks for Halloween night, of course! Do you have a paper and pencil ready? Good...

THE SHINING: This film by Stanley Kubrick based on a novel by Stephen King is truly a modern classic. Acting talents like Shelly Duvall, Jack Nicholson and Scatman Crothers make what could have been a B movie into a horror classic. If you haven't already had a chance to view this 'great' at the theatre, try renting it for Halloween night.

HALLOWEEN: What title could better represent the season? Yes, I know that most moviegoers have had it up to their screaming place with the endless sequels to this original, but I still must warn anyone that the original 'Halloween' is just what Halloween is about...fright!

Maybe I should mention here just what it takes to get on my 'Halloween horror flix' pick list. Simple scary movie business isn't enough. Neither is run-on-the-floor gore. No, my selections are based on the true meaning lying darkly behind the season of ghosts, goblins and hallowed saints. This being my basis of selection, I must make my third choice...

THE EXORCIST: If one needs the 'bejesus' scared out of them, then this one will do it. I guarantee this film will tear your emotions in places you may not have realized that you even had. If you're one who's had trouble with Proctor & Gamble's logo, then forget it! Sounds like fun? No way! In fact, I personally know of several people who wouldn't see this film again on a bet. I think I might even be one of them. It's just that if scary viewing is what you're looking for, THIS ONE IS IT! I might caution the faint of heart (and stomach) that this movie should be handled with care. Though not 'X' or even perhaps 'R' rateable now-a-days, this movie still packs an emotional punch unequalled by anything I've yet had the displeasure to sit through. If there are other movies more frightening, I don't want to know about them!

But it's all in the 'spirit' of the season: Halloween.

Square Dancing

The Paddock Lake Squares square dance club invites everyone to its Goblins Ball dance on Thursday, Oct. 22, at the Central High School cafeteria, Hwy. 50 in Paddock Lake. Jerry Wenglewski will call the squares from 8 to 10:30 p.m.

Bill Have a Halloween frightful film fest

☒ YES
☐ NO

Here are some other films that I recommend for Halloween viewing, although I agree 'The Shining' and 'Halloween' are among the best.

GHOST STORY: This film features 5 of the finest veteran actors: Fred Astaire, Melvyn Douglas, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., John Houseman, and Patricia Neal. The story concerns The Chowder Society, a club whose members share a terrible secret that comes back to 'haunt' them decades later. A young college teacher (Craig Wasson) crosses paths with them in his attempt to solve the unnerving mysteries surrounding the woman he had an affair with.

The movie gets most of its power from Alice Krige who, as the mystery woman, comes across as irresistibly sexy yet very strange and disturbing, in a truly 'spooky' performance.

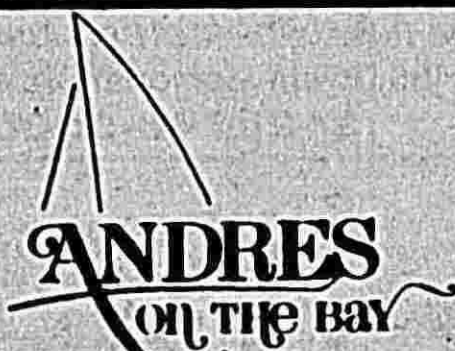

AN AMERICAN WEREWOLF IN LONDON: This film is a love story, dark comedy, tragedy, and thriller all in one. Somehow, that crazy mixture works. David Naughton is likable as the hairy star and little extra touches make this an entertaining variation on the werewolf legend.

Of course, I also like it because it stars Jenny Agutter, whom I fell in love with when I was 14 and saw her in 'Logan's Run' in 1976.

In 'Werewolf', I love that shower scene with Van Morrison's 'Moondance', a great song, in the background. (OK, so lust is a big reason I like the movie-so sue me.)

SOMETHING WICKED THIS WAY COMES: Beautifully translated from Ray Bradbury's novel, this movie does not fit the 'horror' label the same way the others do, but is included here for other reasons, the biggest being atmosphere. There is a vague sense that something awful is quietly happening to Green Town, Illinois, as a carnival arrives in late October for mysterious and evil purposes.

This is an almost poetic story about the wonder of childhood and about coming to terms with shattered dreams and lost hope. It features outstanding performances by Jason Robards as a man who learns to do just that, and Jonathan Pryce as the sinister Mr. Dark.

The Beaux' Stratagem

...And now for a history lesson.

During the 18th century European popular theater entered an era that can only be compared to the TV sitcoms and soaps of our present age. Why? I think it was because the vast European theater going public of the 18th century, like their 20th century American counterparts, may not have known what art was, but they certainly knew what they liked. It was in such an environment that the 'comedy farce' was born and thrived. These 'light dramatic compositions marked by broadly satirical comedy and improbable plots' (Webster) were standard theater fare of that era.

It is out of this background that one should come to the experience that is the Bowen Park Theatre Company's presentation of 'The Beaux' Stratagem' by George Farquhar. If one has had an opportunity to read much of 18th century popular literature, then one will have a better appreciation of the importance that characters played in the development of the twisted plots so 'in' at the time. 'Beaux' Stratagem' has an ample supply to allow for the growth of the most convoluted of plots (even when compared with our modern prime-time soaps). There is Archer (Peter Pintozzi) and Aimwell (Philip Jaeger), two brothers posing as servant and gentleman master. Then there is an old country woman, Lady Bountiful (Eileen Buchanan), her daughter Dorinda (Catherine Guzolek) and her daughter-in-law (Stephanie Tackett). Oh, thrown in to stir up the 'plot soup' even further are a highway man Gibbet (Ken Smouse), a french priest Folgard (Bob Andresen), an innkeeper (Lou Jones), his daughter (Ruth Suttie), a servant (Ron Casey), a maid (Sara Cameron-May), a brutal squire (Alex Apostol), a gentleman (Fran Jansta), and a simple country wife (Cindy Sharp). This five act story contains no less than 12 scene changes! I imagine that 18th century playwrights had as difficult a time keeping their audiences amused and involved as today's television screenwriters do. And perhaps in a way, it is in these 'similar' publics that one may begin to view 'Beaux' Stratagem' as not that far removed from what passes as modern situation comedy.

So do you and your family a favor. Turn off the TV & VCR, harness up the pony cart and take a run up the pike out to Goodfellow Hall at the Jack Benny Center for the Arts in Bowen Park, Waukegan. You'll be guaranteed a happy ending and what modern soap can match that!

ASK TONI

New 'Star Trek' series isn't just another rumor

By Toni Reinhold

Last spring I heard that "Star Trek" would be coming back as a new series, but I haven't heard anything since. Is this true? - M.S., Woodstock, N.Y.

Patrick Stewart

The new syndicated series "Star Trek: The Next Generation" premiered earlier this month with a two-hour episode called "Encounter at Farpoint." Don't expect to see a new Kirk or Spock, though - the show's characters are new, too. Patrick Stewart portrays Capt. Jean-Luc Picard, commander of the new Starship Enterprise, and Jonathan Frakes plays Cmdr. William Riker. Filming costs are topping $1 million per episode. Check local listings to see if it airs in your area.

Who sang the theme song from the movie "The Spy Who Loved Me"? - S.M. Henderson, Texas

Carly Simon sang "Nobody Does It Better," the theme for this 1977 James Bond thriller. It was written by Marvin Hamlisch, who also scored "The Way We Were" (1973) and "The Sting" (1973).

How old is Bette Davis? Has she retired? - J.F., Huntsville, Ala.

Davis, 79, is still going strong. She stars with Lillian Gish, Vincent Price and Ann Sothern in the new film "The Whales of August."

Where and when was Christopher Walken born? - M.P., Hibbing, Minn.

Walken, best known for his Oscar-winning performance in "The Deer Hunter" (1978), was born in New York City on March 31, 1943.

Who wrote the book on which the movie "Memories Never Die" was based? What was the book's original title? - J.L.S., Mount Joy, Pa.

This 1982 TV movie, which starred Lindsay Wagner, Gerald McRaney and Melissa Michaelson, was based on Zoe Sutherland's novel "A Stranger in the House."

Where can we write to Robert Ulrich? I think his show is the best on TV. - H.L.H., Pleasant Hill, Ore.

Send mail to Ulrich, Avery Brooks and other "Spenser: For Hire" stars in care of Nightwatch Productions, Warner Brothers Television, 4000 Warner Blvd., Burbank, CA 91522.

(Send your letters to Ask Toni, United Feature Syndicate, 200 Park Ave., Room 602, New York, N.Y. 10166. Due to the large volume of mail, personal replies cannot be given.)

THIS WEEK'S

HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Changes are greatly favored.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) The health picture looks good now, so stick to your present routines. You could get publicity and credit or reimbursement for past efforts, so look sharp.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) The social scene is looking up, and your popularity is taking sharp turns for the better. Communicate with your fellow workers to get things done well.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) Concentrate on your home and family life. There are possible romantic adventures in your future. Partnerships look favorable, so be agreeable.

Cancer (June 21-Jul. 20) Look for new ways to find the freedom you want. Attracting a new romance would be wise now. Center in on home, property and security matters.

Leo (Jul. 21-Aug. 22) Keep your wits about you for the best results in the business world. Something that's been burdening you may be resolved soon. Rely on family for support.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Take the lead on any project you are working on. Your personal magnetism is high now, so get out and make new contacts with special finesse.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Take the time to look at things from different angles. Brainstorm with your closest associates for a possible financial gain. Dare to be different!

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Your creative and imaginative juices are flowing at top speed now; capitalize on them by making wise investments in your social and business worlds.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Your social life is really rolling now. The possibility of an exciting romance is looming. A puzzling personal situation may be resolved now.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Sharpen your communication skills for that big confrontation with a superior. A good friend may need a shoulder to lean on, so be available.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Listen to the advice you get from a knowledgeable financial source. Set your goals high in your career, but be realistic and make changes carefully.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) Approach domestic matters delicately now. You would do well to maintain a very low profile at the office, too. Put your social life on hold now.

If you were born this week, rest assured you have the balance and foresight to succeed in this world. But being the workhorse you are, your social life often suffers. Even if things are hectic in your life, always make time to be with your friends and relatives to blow off a little steam. Remember, all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy! © 1987, McNaught Synd.

Providing blood supply

Our community and this locality in general has a rather spotty record when it comes to public support of blood donor programs. The "life line" on which the blood supply hinges is fragile, as was exemplified recently by the area's worst-ever blood shortage. Without public participation, a potentially catastrophic blood shortage always is lurking.

In the wake of critically low blood supplies, blood bank officials are determined to make amends. It is interesting that a call to business leaders is seen as vital to overhauling the donor process. The executive director of United Blood Services says that more CEO and corporate support is needed. It seems apparent that even fairly small businesses will be asked to conduct one or two blood drives a year.

Blood bank leaders say they will campaign to get rid of a state law prohibiting persons older than 65 from donating blood without a doctor's approval. The law is archaic and unnecessary. Blood banks also cite the need to dispel notions that donors may contract AIDS.

Quality health care depends on an adequate blood supply. We're certain that once business leaders pick up the cudgel, blood programs will be functioning as intended. The short supply of blood is a shame everyone can share and the greatest shame is that there is no good reason for blood shortages.

Our conservative nature

In case you've ever wondered about it, we live in a decidedly conservative area. This observation is underscored by the results of an opinion survey taken by Congressman Philip M. Crane (R-12th). We've enumerated some of the responses we feel reflect a conservative bias. See if you agree.

Ninety-five percent of the some 7,000 taking part in Crane's survey noted they believe most able-bodied public aid recipients should be required to do public service to qualify for benefits.

Nine out of 10 believe that convicted felons, convicted prostitutes, people convicted of IV drug use, persons being treated for venereal disease, immigrants and those seeking a marriage license should be required to take a test for AIDS.

Eighty-five percent voiced opposition to Congressional liberals who want to raise taxes in order to lower the deficit. On a related issue, 74 percent note they do not favor the proposal of House Speaker Jim Wright to postpone the income tax reduction for taxpayers that is scheduled for 1988.

Military forces should be employed to stop the flow of illegal drugs into this country in the opinion of 81 percent of those responding.

Seventy-seven percent favor holding spending on domestic programs to cost-of-living increases to try to balance the budget.

Three out of four favor "a moment of silence" in public schools. Recently, the U.S. Supreme Court, while ruling school prayer to be unconstitutional, left open the question of "a moment of silence."

Seven out of ten oppose attempts to sink the Gramm-Rudman-Holling deficit reduction plan designed to cut the deficit by 20 some percent per year, which would lead to a balanced budget.

Fifty-four percent of the residents agree this country should continue to provide military aid to Contras battling the Marxist government of Nicaragua.

In rating the job Ronald Reagan is doing as President, three times as many (48 percent) gave him a rating of good as those (16 percent) who feel he is doing a poor job. And 33 percent believe he's doing a fair job.

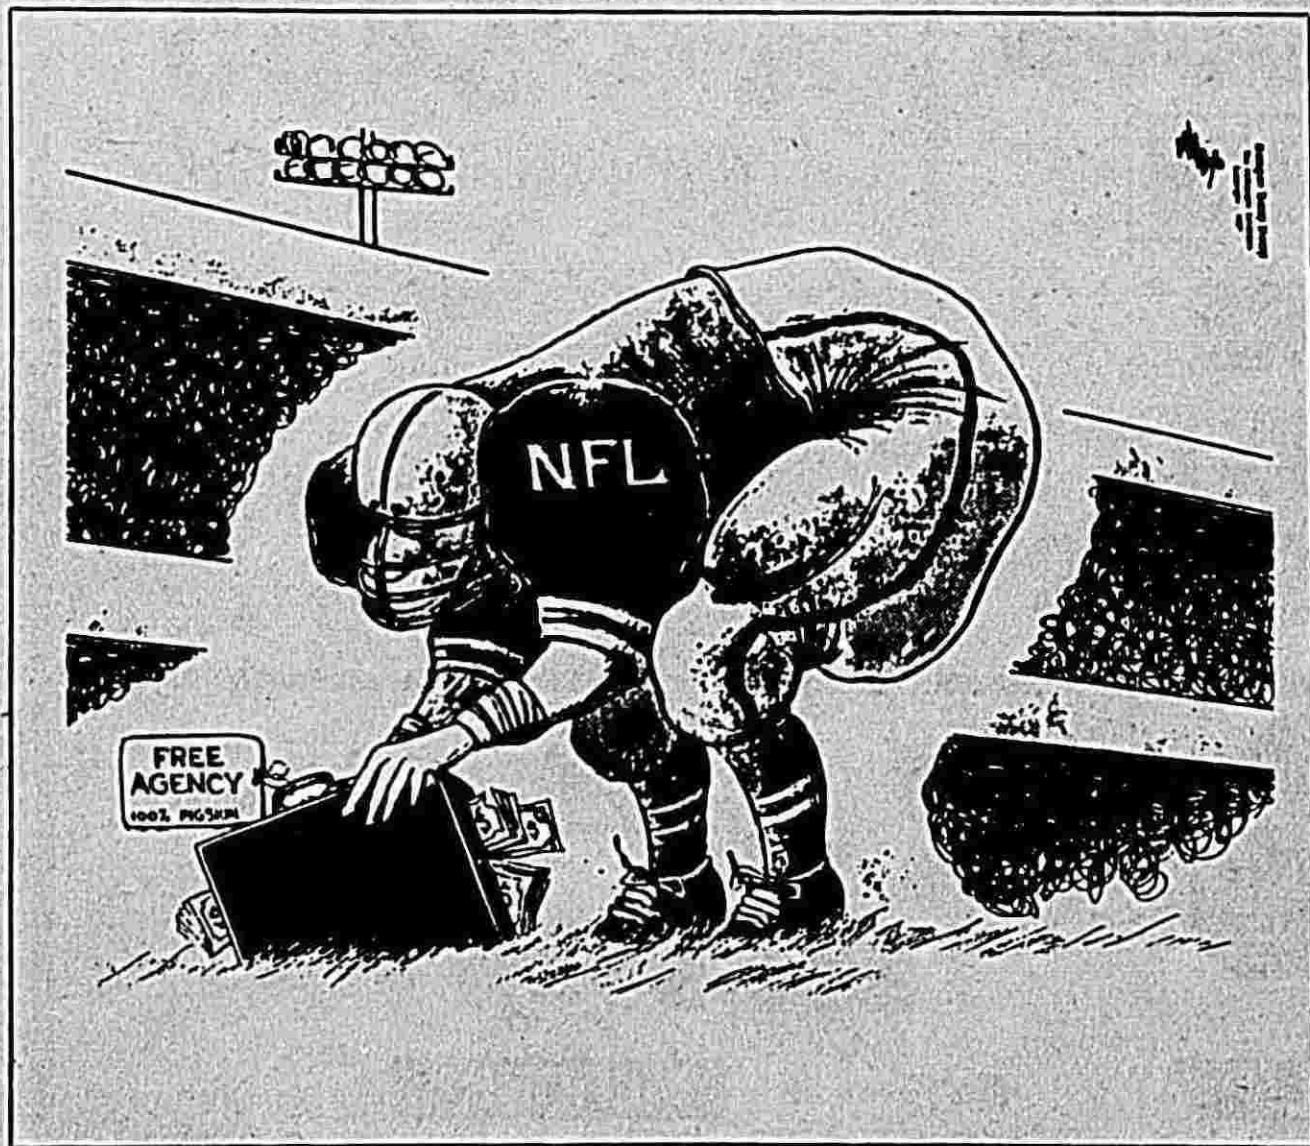

Locating radon dangers

A recent test of 1,500 homes conducted by the Illinois Dept. of Nuclear Safety to estimate the extent of the radon problem revealed that the highest levels of the colorless, odorless, radioactive gas are usually in basements and not in the ground floor living space.

The state's survey also showed that Illinois does not have as widespread a problem as many eastern states such as New Jersey and Pennsylvania. But the survey did note that it is impossible to predict which Illinois homes have high radon levels and those which are free of gas. Adjacent homes that were tested have shown tremendously different results.

Radon, created by the radioactive decay of uranium in the soil, will often rise to the surface and gather in lower levels of buildings. The gaseous concentrations are normally highest in the winter and summer, when houses lack good ventilation.

Tests indicate that four in every 10 homes in Illinois may have excessive levels of radon, a well-documented cause of lung cancer. Radon is thought to be responsible for between 5,000 and 20,000 lung cancer deaths annually in the United States. While radon exposure is serious, nuclear safety officials stress that the public should not panic because there are many safety precautions homeowners can take.

Letters To The Editor

How to lose jobs

Editor:

Business, consumers and the general public will pay for an increase in the federal minimum wage through fewer jobs, wage inflation and higher prices—if some members of Congress have their way. Don't let them pull the wool over your eyes.

Congress is once again considering raising the minimum wage, this time by 30 percent to $4.65 within two years. On top of that, the minimum would then automatically increase each year to equal 50 percent of the average private, non-supervisory hour wage.

The leading bills to increase the minimum wage are H.R. 1834 (Hawkins, D-CA) and S. 837 (Kennedy, D-MA). They and other legislators seem to have let emotions get in the way of the facts. They're ignoring the concerns of the country's top economists and business experts. It's time they consider the real impact of this issue on the nation.

Even supporters of the legislation admit any hike in the minimum wage will increase unemployment, either through job displacement (jobs that would be created at a lower wage) or outright job loss.

In Illinois alone, it has been projected that by 1990 the new minimums would create a job loss of 35,340, which would grow to 85,366 by 1995 with the inclusion of the 50 percent average.

Make your voice heard on these bills pending in Congress.

Keep CUB strong

Editor:

The commentary by Nancy Schroeder stressing the importance of the Citizens Utility Board was correct and "on point." CUB has been the consumers' voice in the regulatory process in public utility matters and ratepayers should support it fully. As a sponsor of most of the CUB bills in the Legislature, I can vouch for the need to keep CUB as a viable organization.

State Rep. John S. Matijevich

'Hardrock Bob' may becoming 'Mellow Bob'

by BILL SCHROEDER

Is Bob Neal, the noncompromising, no-holds-barred Lake County Republican chairman, mellowing? Has the weight of responsibility tenored his views? Could be.

Neal, chatting about the movement he launched to create the position of elected county executive, digressed into the philosophy of maintaining ballot positions and not, as a trend indicates, eliminating elective jobs. "The people should have an opportunity to select their representatives," Neal remarked. And then came the astonisher. Neal allowed as how he misses the multi-member state representative districts and minority representation where Democrats were always assured of a voice in top-heavy Republican Lake County. There are a lot of Democrats in Lake County who are voiceless in Springfield, Neal remarked.

Now, that sounds like a new Bob Neal. Whatever happened to Hardrock Bob? Neal had a good laugh over our question and he headed for the door—smiling.

SEEKING COATS—A chilly morning was the inspiration for Joanne Alam to launch "Coats for Kids," a holiday drive to collect warm clothing for needy children.

"I got to thinking that there has to be a great number of needy children who will be needing warm coats for winter, so 'Coats for Kids' came into being," remarked Alam, partner in the Gymnastic Factory, a training center for gymnasts on Lake St., Grayslake.

Alam is collecting coats and jackets for distribution on Sunday, Nov. 22, when she'll hold an open house for families seeking outer garments for their children. You can call her at (312)223-1555 for additional information.

There is no charge for the service.

VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT—Volo Bog State Natural Area is seeking more volunteers to expand its interpretive program. Persons are needed to lead youth and public programs, develop displays and do a variety of artwork projects. Anyone who enjoys working with people or who has skills such as photography, taxidermy, carpentry or writing, and who would like further information, should contact the park interpreter at (815)344-1294, or stop in at the visitor center on Brandenburg Rd., off Rte. 12 in Ingleside.

NEW AREA CODE—Ma Bell isn't saying much, but our area is scheduled for a new area code—708—to replace 312. The change will take place about 1990. Stan Jozwiak, community relations manager for Illinois Bell in Waukegan, confirmed the change and noted, "We'll be making an announcement about 18 months ahead so everyone can get prepared." Chicago will retain 312. Blame growth and development for 708, which will serve the present 312 area outside of Chicago.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—Daughter-in-law Lisa has alerted everyone to the impending holidays by producing a Christmas list and urging everyone to do likewise to head off the Yuletide jumps. Or is it the Yuletide yumps? All of us pledged not to get caught this year in the last-minute rush.

OFF THE WALL

Beyer, Anderson could still end up running mates

DIST. 6 REP. Jerry Beyer filled Mers Restaurant in Wauconda for his "coming out" party. County Board members from nearly every district showed up.

Oddly enough, C. Richard Anderson (R-Barrington), who has had a falling-out with Beyer had a front-row seat along with his fellow Dist. 6 member, Bruce Hansen (R-Lake Zurich). Anderson and Beyer are both up for reelection but they had announced five weeks ago that they would not run together again.

Beyer made no announcement of a running mate at his first fundraiser and said that he will wait until after filing is complete to decide who, if anyone, to run with.

Ela Twp. Sup. Robert Grever, a Lake Zurich resident, is reported to be anxious to get in the race, preferably in tandem with Beyer. Grever was at Beyer's party but did not take a turn at the microphone.

Rumors abound that Beyer and Anderson may end up running together after all. Anderson seems amenable to the prospect. Beyer, while not committing himself, did not repudiate such talk, but maintained that such alliances will be made after filing for the primary is complete.

My guess is that Beyer and Anderson both would prefer to let bygones be bygones. They have run together successfully before and there is no reason to believe that such a combination wouldn't be successful again. The problem is that Beyer has strong ties to Grever. Unless Grever can be kept out of the race this time, Beyer will find it difficult to link back up to his old running mate Anderson.

State Rep. Dick Klemm (R-63) gave Beyer a ringing endorsement as one of the state's leading environmentalists at the party. Klemm described Beyer as the sort of man who, when you need something done, is just a phone call away.

There could be no doubt that Beyer has his home turf well in hand as speaker after speaker rose to describe in glowing terms what Beyer has done for them and their area.

COMMITTEEMEN IN DIST. 5 are as upset as those in Dist. 4 over the sending of petitions out for incumbent candidates in the Republican Primary.

They have good reason to be. Warren Twp. Sup. Bob Depke, who lost by a whisker in his effort to be reelected to the County Board two years ago, is going to be a candidate. He will run against incumbents James Dolan and Andrea Moore, both of Libertyville.

In most districts, committeemen are faced with choosing between incumbents and challengers. In Dist. 5, voters will have three veteran County Board members, all proven winners, running for two seats. Each of the three has made some mark outside of the district also.

Moore is vice-chairman of the County Board. Dolan was the regular Republicans' candidate for chairman last December before the deal was made which put Jim LaBelle (R-Zion) in the seat. Depke is a former chairman and many believe he would have been the leading contender last time had he won reelection in his district.

CITIZENS OF LAKE County for Environmental Action Reform (CLEAR) is one of the best citizens' action groups to come around in a long time. Born as a result of the controversial proposal to build a landfill and incinerator as part of a Heartland settlement agreement, it remains active today, even though that proposal is dead.

Most such groups wither shortly after they accomplish their immediate goal. CLEAR has not.

Dorothy Mosier, one of the founders of the group, told me this week that, towards the end of the battle, they could not understand where I was coming from and thought I did a complete flip-flop.

I thought the terms of the agreement among the County Board, Heartland developers and Waste Management (which would have built the incinerator and landfill) were a little too cozy. That assurance of a settlement was contingent upon approval of Waste Management's landfill application tainted the whole process from the start. The county could not have given a yes vote to the application and stayed out of court.

I believe that most bad deals on controversial issues come because public officials try to avoid the issue until a solution is imposed on them. And when that happens, it is almost never as good a solution as could have been gotten by standing up and dealing with the problem straight out. In the course of my research on the issue, I discovered three things:

1) Time is running out. Some County Board members told me that was just a scare tactic by Waste Management, but the numbers seemed to say otherwise. Last week, the IEPA confirmed that Lake County has less than three years of capacity left. The only thing worse than a landfill is a mountain of garbage with no place to go.

2) There is no reason this problem should not have been solve five years ago. Except for political cowardice. It makes for snappy quotes to talk about how bad a landfill will be but it takes determination and courage to solve the problem before it becomes a crisis. The numbers have been there for more than a decade telling us that we are headed for a crisis.

Just Politics

By Charles Johnston

3) Waste Management is not the big, bad wolf. The largest waste company in the world ran into a series of terrible environmental and legal screw-ups in the early 80s. Since the shake-up at the top and its reorganization in 1983, it has had the best environmental record in the industry. I will say it bluntly: If we must have a landfill in this county, I want Waste Management to run it.

The Joint Action Solid Waste Planning Agency should have been created 15 years ago. It is doing its job. I want it to do its job thoroughly and do it posthaste, for there is no time to waste.

That is where I'm coming from.

At Issue Should there be a county executive?

In March, 1988, Lake County voters will choose whether they wish to create the post of county executive. If approved, the Democratic and Republican Central committees would choose the candidates for the office. Bob Neal of Wadsworth, Lake County Republican Chairman and County Board Member introduced the idea and would be a candidate for the office. Norm Geary of Grayslake, County Board Member and former chairman of the County Board, opposes the idea.

Lake County government is a $100 million plus a year business. It employs in excess of 1,500 workers. It governs a population of 470,000. It's the third largest county in the State of Illinois and yet the people have no input into who should be in charge.

Cities and villages have a mayor and council or board; states have a governor and legislature; and the United States has a President and Congress.

County government is similar to what has been said about the horse that was built by a committee - you probably call it a camel.

Twenty-four County Board members meet every two years to decide who should be the chairman - not based on who is most qualified, but on favors, promises, committee assignments and chairmanships. Then county government muddles along. Unfortunately, many decisions are based on who's for or against or "who proposed it." Not on "is it good or bad for Lake County?" When it's all over, nobody's responsible. It was the other guy.

We need a county chairman with veto powers who is answerable to the people. Someone willing to go out and listen to all the people then guide our county into the next century.

Everyone will then have someone to look to for direction: department heads, employees, open space advocates, pro-development advocates, economic growth advocates - everyone.

To elect a county executive - by the people - is good for everyone. Everyone, that is, except a few County Board members who enjoy the power of "being on the committee that is building the horse."

County government can and should be improved. This proposition will not necessarily improve the present system nor give us better government. It will instead drastically alter and expand the structure of county government.

We need less government, not more. This proposal will add an additional layer; another branch to county government. It will add more cost, more bureaucracy, and more conflict. All of these are undesirable results for Lake County.

If the County Executive proposition is approved there will still be 24 County Board members from six districts. The County Board will remain as the county's "legislature." With the new executive branch a new elected position will be created countywide with a four-year term to accomplish the day to day affairs of the government.

Presently we have an administrator who is an educated professional, appointed for his management experience and training. The new proposal sets up an additional office with more staff at greater expense. Individuals with political skills will replace professional employees.

County government should continue to be streamlined. The board has worked toward a more efficient and responsive administrative structure. This proposal will not enhance county government; it will politicize the current system. Vote no!

Top Irish tenor to be at Irish Heritage Center

The Irish American Heritage Center will present Ireland's most renowned singer in his first solo concert in Chicago.

Frank Patterson has been described as the heir to the John McCormack legacy. His career has paralleled that of McCormack in many ways. He won the major vocal awards at Dublin's Feis Ceoil, went on to study in London, Holland, and France, and is now considered to be the finest Irish tenor in the world.

Patterson has been featured in all of the prominent opera houses of Wusope, has appeared on many tv shows, and has had his own series as well.

In 1979, he sang at the Papal Mass before 1.3 million people in Phoenix Park, Dublin. He performed in the White House on St. Patrick's Day, 1982, and in that same year was conferred with the Knighthood of St. Gregory by Pope John Paul II, the highest Papal honor that can be bestowed on a lay person.

Patterson also has a starring role as a singer in the soon-to-be-released film,

"The Dead," an adaptation of a novel by James Joyce and John Huston's last motion picture.

Patterson will be accompanied by his wife, Eily O'Grady on the piano and Irish harp. Concerts will be held at 8 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 24, at Mother Guerin High School, 8001 W. Belmont in Chicago; and at 4 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 25, at Mother McCauley High School, 3785 W. 99th St., Chicago.

The price for both concerts is $10 in advance, and $12 at the door. Tickets are available from the Irish American Heritage Center, 4626 N. Knox Ave., Chicago, 60630, as well as from most Irish import stores.

For further information, call the Center at (312)282-7035; or call chairman Mike Shevlin, (312)439-9439.

'Little Egypt' not big slice of life

by TOM WITOM

"Little Egypt," the comedy written by Lynn Siefert and directed by Jeff Perry, is supposed to have captured a slice of life involving the romantic entanglements of residents of a small, southern Illinois town.

For the most part, the focus is on six lost souls—a manipulative no-account drifter, an ex-prom queen still looking for her Jimmy Dean, a burned-out politician and his washed-out lover, a security guard who struggles to find the right words and a bookworm whose words usually are out of context.

Their struggle is to find meaning for their dull, empty lives.

Critic's Choice In... Lakeland

Rick Snyder, as Watson, is the consummate con artist, and he plays the role to the hilt. Only when the sensitive Victor (Francis Guinan) shames him into it does Watson show his human side (in this case, a moment's grief because of his aborted child.)

Laurie Metcalf as Faye plays a calculating, hard-drinking shrew, as promiscuous as her daughter Bernadette (Moirra Harris.)

Sensitive Celeste (Rondi Reed), the other daughter who has withdrawn to the world of books as her escape route, turns in the most moving performance when she declares Victor her knight in shining armor.

In "Little Egypt," where everyone seems to be waiting for something to happen even though the future has an air of being already played out, the overall picture is a desolate one.

What humor there is in this production at Chicago's Steppenwolf Theatre is mostly contrived. It mocks with too heavy a hand and as a result the play reaches as much of a dead end as its characters.

"Little Egypt," which runs through Nov. 22, is for masochists only.

Goblins ball

The Paddock Lake Squares square dance club invites everyone to its "Goblins Ball" square dance at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 22, at the Central High School cafeteria, Hwy. 50 in Paddock Lake. Jerry Wenglewski will call the squares, and refreshments will be served. All square dancers are welcome.

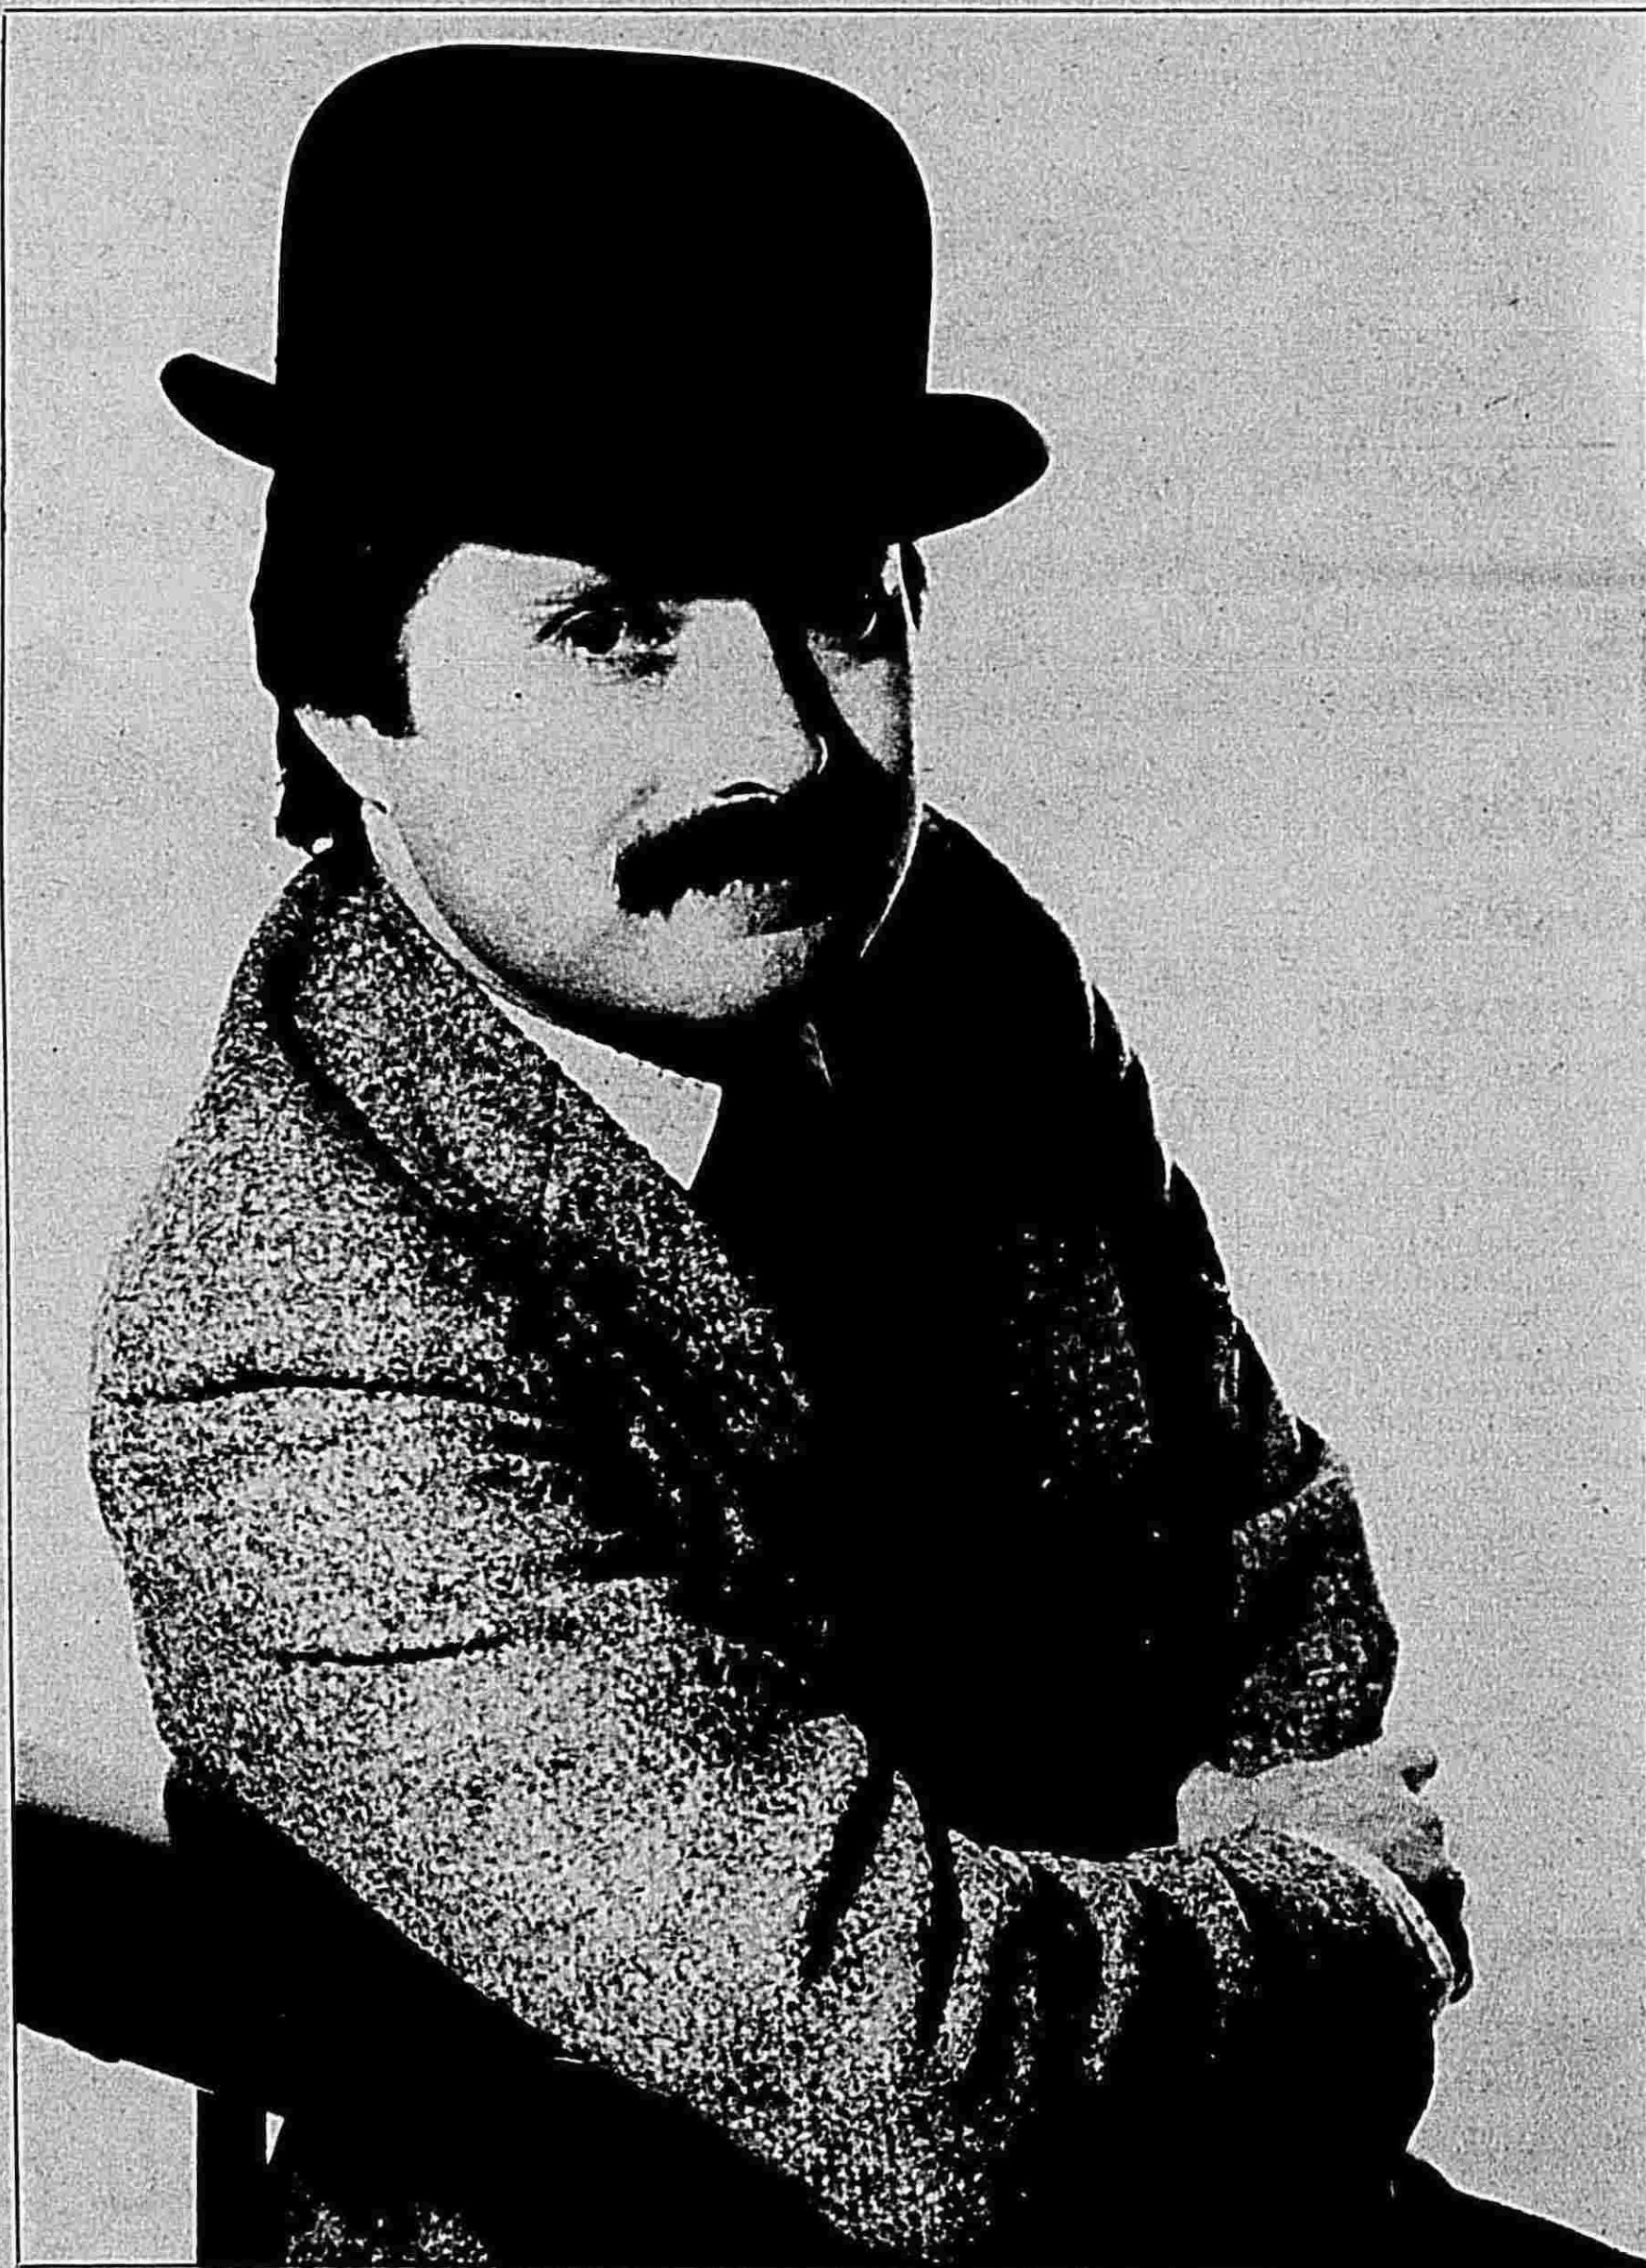

'Little Egypt'

Rondi Reed, left, who plays Celeste and Francis Guinan, who is seen as Victor, rehearse scene from Chicago's Steppenwolf Theater's production of 'Little Egypt,' playing through Nov. 22.

Fiction writer Hannah at CLC

Barry Hannah, critically acclaimed novelist and short story writer, will be writer-in-residence at the College of Lake County on Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 9 and 10.

Hannah will conduct workshops and meet with classes during the two-day residency in addition to presenting two fiction readings.

On Monday, Nov. 9, Hannah will read at 7:30 p.m. in the Auditorium; and on Tuesday, he will read at 7:30 p.m. in L034. Both are free and open to the public.

The Mississippi writer-described by novelist Larry McMurty as "the best fiction writer in the South since Flannery O'Connell"-has published four novels: "Geronimo Rex," which won the William Faulkner Prize; "Ray," nominated for the American Book Award; "The Tennis Hand-some," and his most recent work, "Hey, Jack!"

Hannah's short story collections are "Air-ships" and "Captain Maximus." His stories have been praised by Philip Roth as "wonderful in the ways Mark Twain, Faulkner and Flannery O'Connell are wonderful when they are working the great vein of fierce and pitiless Southern comedy."

Currently teaching at the University of Mississippi, Hannah has also taught at University of Iowa and University of Montana and has worked as a writer with film director Robert Altman. He received the Arnold Gingrich Award for short fiction from "Esquire". For more information on the Barry Hannah residency, call English instructor Ted Schaefer at (312) 223-6601 ext. 535

AN AUTO ACCIDENT IS A SERIOUS MATTER

We hope it won't happen to you... But if it does the incident should not be taken too lightly. Many times even when an auto accident produces much damage to your car and you are able to walk away there is a tendency to think you are O.K. However, when you have an accident that involves speeds usually greater than 5 m.p.h. soft tissue injury can occur that may produce headaches, dizziness, neck pain, arm and shoulder pain, numbness or tingling and backache. These are signs that there is a problem and that you should have some care. If you have been unfortunate and had an accident make a change and take care of yourself. Auto accidents do not need to result in a tragic outcome. It is possible to be walking around with a broken neck and not know it. So don't wait if you have had an accident. Call today for an appointment and get the care you deserve.

Doctor assesses malpractice and its cost to society

The doctors met for dinner, braving weather that was cold and rainy. Dr. Opal had brought a guest, Jon P. Litigur, an attorney from Bigton. Dr. Thinerk asked what type of law he practiced.

Dr. Synik with a straight face said, "He's a protege of Melvin Belli." Then he went around the table to hug the lawyer sparing his colleague from spilling his coffee.

To the uninitiated reader, Melvin Belli is the lawyer who is credited, by some, for helping initiate the idea that lawsuits against doctors should be in the millions because in the event of a poor result it occurs due to their ignorance, malice, negligence, or general mopey. Besides it doesn't hurt anyone, there is insurance with a deep pocket. It turned out that Mr. Litigur specialized in defending doctors, not suing them. It also made malpractice the day's topic.

Synik mentioned that the costs were still going up. "Our town Rep. John Porter (R-Ill.) and Sen. John Heinz (R-Pa.), bless them, initiated an 18-month study reported in 1986 to see what the costs were to doctors and hospitals. In two years doctor's premiums had gone up 100 percent but for hospitals, premiums increased 57 percent! For some reason, the report mentioned 1984 for doctors and said premiums were only 9 percent of operating costs for the typical doctor. What's a mere 9 percent? Of course it's four years later and things are worse now."

Litigur said, "Pres. Reagan's Task Force on Medical Liability co-chaired by a lawyer and a physician saw the average physician's premium rise by 81 percent from 1982 to 1985. Hardest hit were the obstetrician/gynecologists at 113 percent with the orthopedic men and neurosurgeons not far behind. But as you say their numbers aren't up to date. How much do you charge for delivering a baby if prorated it costs hundreds of dollars per baby in insurance premiums in some state now? In one area of Florida, physicians just stopped obstetrics."

Whinker added, "Each state handles its own lawsuits or 'torts'. In general, the doctors have lined up against the insurance companies, protesting the rise of premiums and against the lawyers for awards that frequently are excessive not only for damages but also add-ons for emotional suffering, which is, of course, unmeasurable."

Yungfren chimed in, "Look at the Task Force's findings which start out focusing on the doctors. We have no quarrel with rooting out our rotten apples and each state has already set in motion their first finding, disciplinary action against doctors who are really in the wrong. The way it's done in some instances it's both harsh and unreasonable because a poor result is confused with wrongdoing. We can't put new parts in sick people so we can't guarantee results. The second finding that by its own admission the government hasn't been careful enough in its own hiring practices and will do better through Social Security (HHS) to assure quality care also has the doctor endorsement, providint it's fair."

Litigur pointed out, "The problem lies in the total disagreement between doctor, lawyer and insurance companies. The Task Force's recommendations aren't bad and are along the lines of Dr. Otis Bowen, head of Social Security, if the states could get the parties' agreement to: shorten the statute of limitations so that the doctor isn't held liable for as many years; consider pretrial screening of suits so that cases without merit be recognized; consider limited attorney's fees to a sliding scale (now it's 25 to 50 percent of awards); discard the practice of "shotgun suits" where everybody in sight is sued and ends up frequently with the doctor having the most insurance as the target."

Dr. Oltimer said, "There was more: Limit non-economic losses and punitive damages for pain and suffering; Authorize and encourage voluntary binding arbitration of medical-malpractice claims; Allow part payment by losing defendants over a number of years instead of a lump sum."

Musings: The above is a wish list. It would be more to the point if the public got interested; it ultimately pays for the greed of others. One of the interesting complications that has followed the doctor's plight is the extension of this frenzy-to-sue to every walk of life. Insurance has been denied or the premiums made too high for municipalities, high schools can't field its sport teams, and I know of one house of worship that lost its insurance after a bingo player sued.

The lawyers have not escaped. They are much more vulnerable than doctors. Consider this: Most of my patients

Medical Musings

By Leo Tannenbaum, M.D.

do well. But every time lawyers go to court, one side loses; one side wins. The lawyers are now being sued for malpractice by the losers! Their malpractice premiums are going up. There are complaints that it isn't ethical for one to sue or bear witness against another. There is a feeling of deja vu. And lo: The same Melvin Belli has had a successful suit against him by a former client with an award of over six million dollars!

So how about common sense compromises: The state sets up an arbitration board made up of lawyers, doctors, insurance people and laymen. Their decision may be appealed to a judge by the loser so the right to sue is not lost. It is very probable that with such a system there would be settlements long before court and the public will be the ultimate winner.

Award Carmel writer

The National Council of Teachers of English have named Carmel High School senior Amy Korytowski a winner in the 1987 NCTE Achievement Awards in Writing. She is one of approximately 700 students recognized for outstanding writing performance.

the English language to inform and move an audience."

Tips to keep ghosts and goblins safe on Halloween

Halloween is coming soon with its array of goblins, ghosts and goodies. A particular favorite of children, Halloween can be a nightmare for parents if proper precautions are neglected.

Both children and adults need to think about safety on this annual day of make-believe. Saint Therese Medical Center, in conjunction with the National Safety Council, offers the following tips for those on the road on Halloween:

-Watch for children walking on roadways, medians and curbs. If youngsters are wearing dark costumes, they will be difficult to see at night.

-Be prepared for children to dart out into the street at any time, especially from between parked cars.

-If driving children on their trick n' treat rounds, be sure they exit on the curb side, away from traffic. (And, of course, make sure everyone's seat belt is fastened.)

When designing costumes, parents should keep safety in mind to ensure that children have a fun-filled and safe journey.

-Only fire-resistant material should be used for costumes.

-Costumes should be loose enough so warm clothes can be worn underneath and to allow freedom of movement. Costumes should not be so long that they are a tripping hazard. (Falls are the leading cause of accidents on Halloween.)

-Outfits should be made of light colors and strips of retroreflective tape should be used to make children even more visible to motorists.

-Consider using makeup instead of a mask so that a child's vision will not be blocked.

-For youngsters under the age of 12, attach their name, address and telephone number, including area code, to their clothes, but not in an easily visible place.

Before children start out on their trick n' treat rounds, Saint Therese suggests that parents ensure the following:

-An adult or older sister or brother will be supervising the outing for children under age 12.

-Children travel only in familiar areas and along established route regardless of their age.

-Children know to stop only at houses or apartment buildings that are well-lighted and never to enter a stranger's house.

-Each child has change for a phone call in case they have a problem while away from home.

-A return time has been established.

-Youngsters understand not to eat any treat until a parent has inspected it.

The Final Four

In basketball, the term "crunch time" is used to describe the last two minutes of a close game.

The football season, with two games left, has now reached that point for teams still in running for playoff berths.

Four teams still are in running and have various chances for the coveted post-season bid.

Warren appears to be a solid bet. If the Blue Devils, now 4-3, beat Stevenson at home Oct. 23, then only winless Fenton remains as an obstacle Halloween eve.

Lake Zurich put Grant in a must-win situation with a 24-0 win at Bears' first home night game. Bulldogs can still have hope, but must beat Round Lake at Round Lake, Oct. 23 and beat Grayslake in finale Oct. 30 and hope for help from others.

The Bears, now back into the playoff picture following win over Bulldogs, still must clear now formidable Grayslake Oct. 24 at Grayslake's Homecoming and winless Wauconda in the final game.

Carmel and North Chicago both are in similar positions with 4-3 records. The Corsairs stayed alive with 12-7 win over St. Viator. Although Warhawks lost heartbreaker 12-8 at Libertyville, North Chicago does still have a chance, but it must beat Mundelein at Mundelein's Homecoming Oct. 24 and upset Lake Forest Oct. 31.

There was one playoff hopeful that went by the wayside last week. Antioch's 21-14 loss to Stevenson in overtime ended the Sequoits' hopes of post-season play.

Best NWSC team

Who is the best team (outside of Woodstock) in the Northwest Suburban Conference?

It is Grayslake. Coach Harold Jahnke's team has won its last three games and now has a shot at a winning season following 19-0 upset of Marengo.

The win almost handed the NWSC title to Marian Central, otherwise, this week's Marian-Marengo game would have been for the title.

Should the Rams upset the Bears next week and the Bulldogs in the finale, Grayslake must be thinking "what if" the team had not lost in overtime to Driscoll and to Johnsburg (which has not won since) early in the season.

LZ sees light

A six-year wait finally ended in Lake Zurich Friday night.

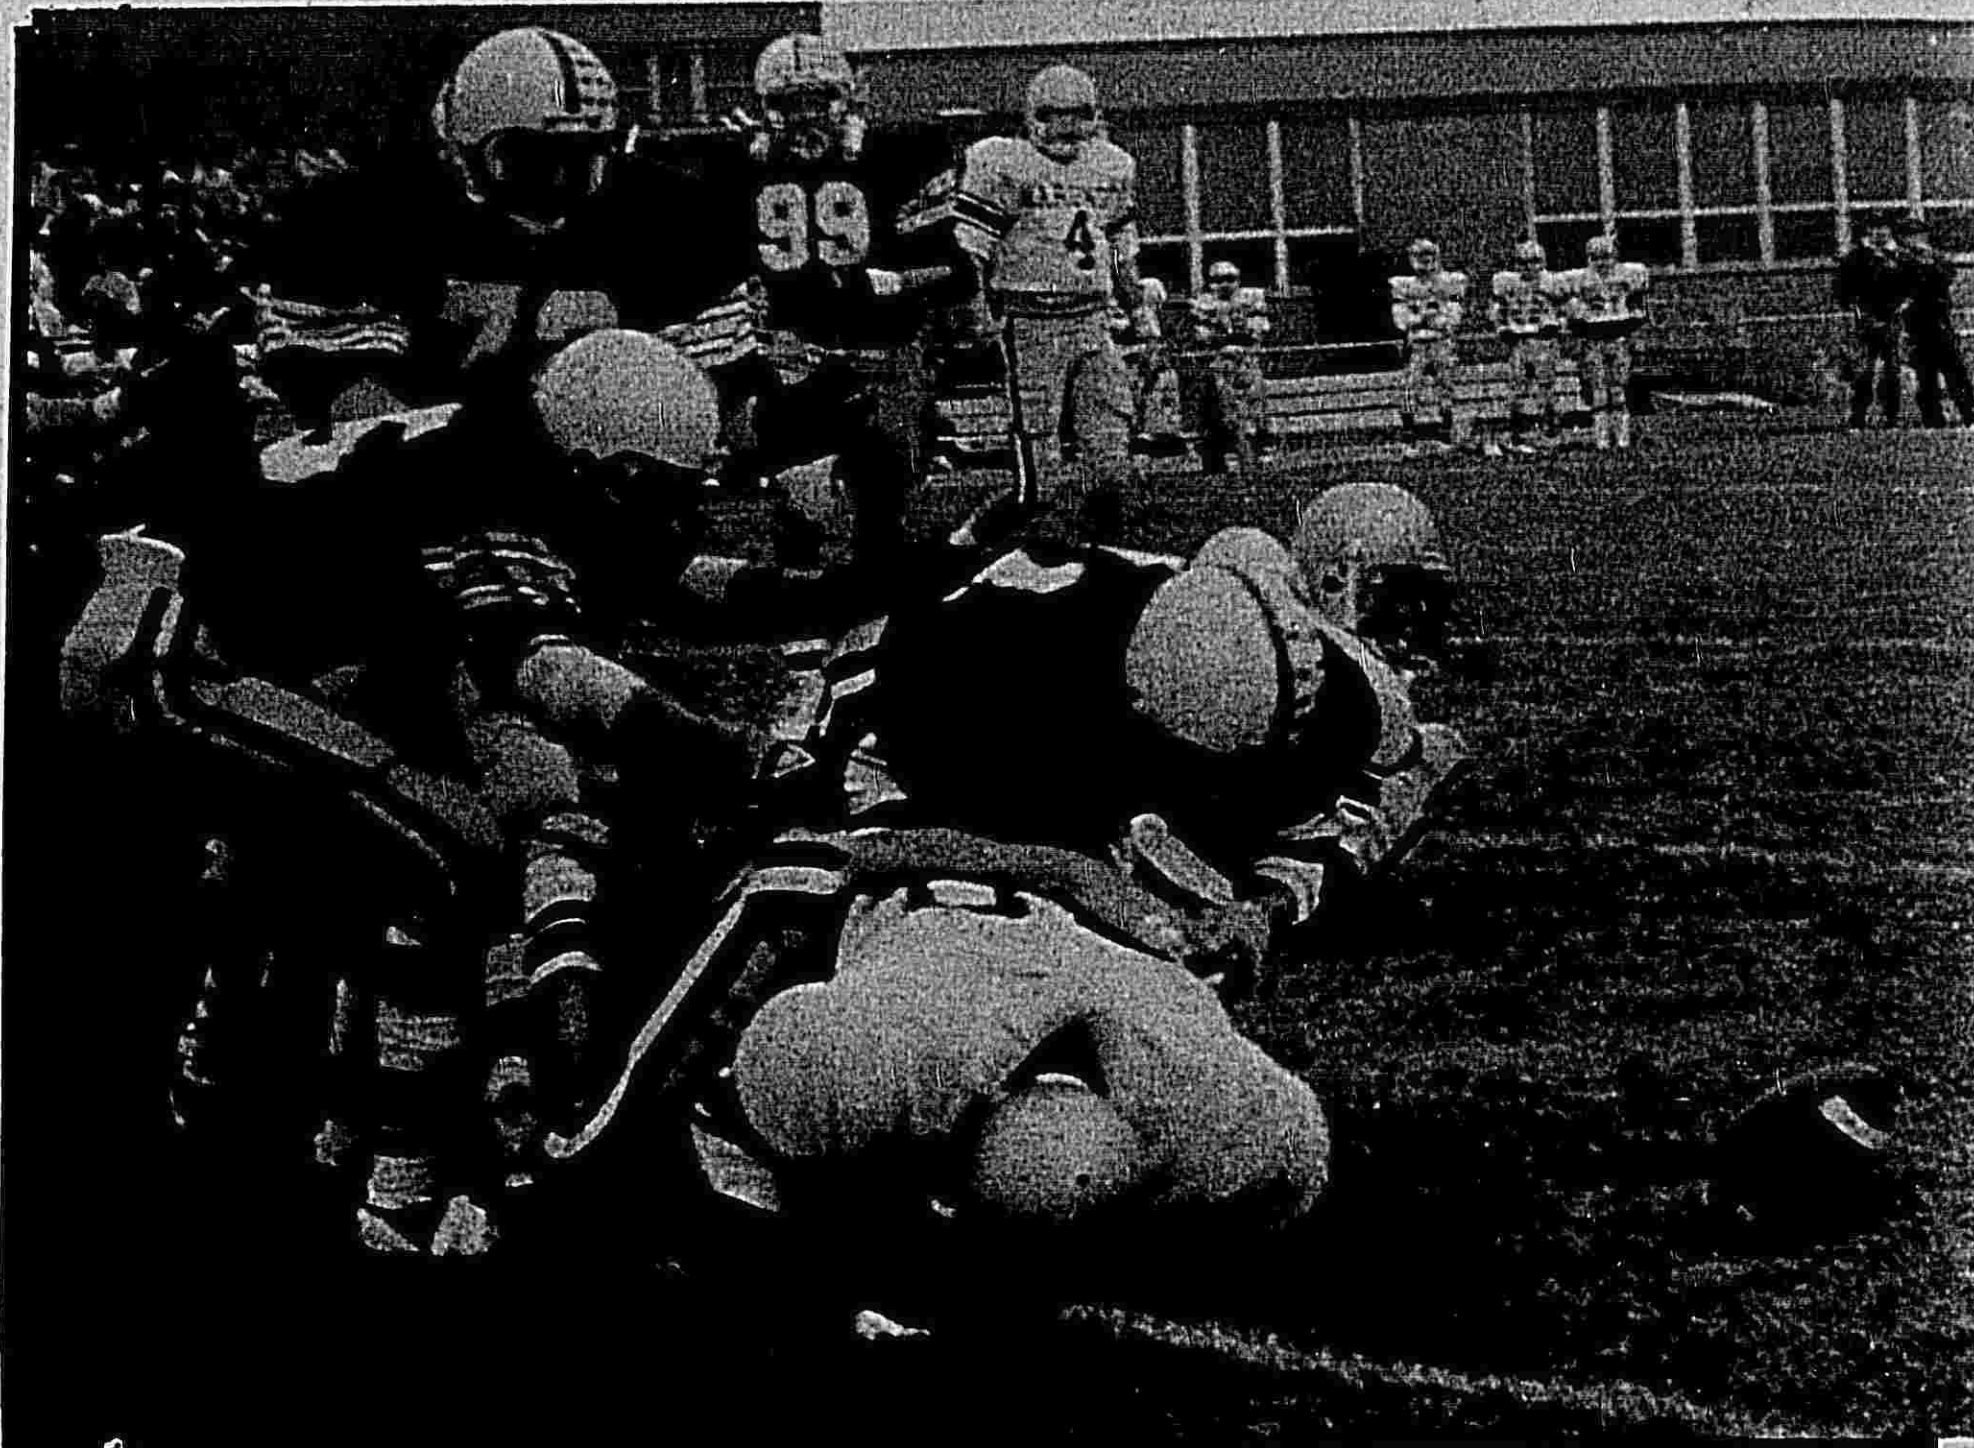

The sophomore Bears and Grant Bulldogs competed in the first game ever under Lake Zurich's new lights. And all Bears fans present were not only pleased with the final scores - both teams won - but knowing their community spirit had paid real dividends.

For Marge Goglin, this was not an ordinary game at the ticket booth.

"The school board gave us permission for the project two years ago. Last February we had a game with the Good News Bears basketball team. That was our major fund raiser," she said.

The Lake Zurich Quarterback Club was largely responsible for turning on the lights at Mel Kido Field. It selected the lighting company.

Weather Nature Grew the Bears a curveball with a wet August and September which prevented the digging for cable. Each week LZHS officials had to say that the home game would be postponed to Saturday afternoon.

Forcing critical fumble

Grayslake defenders force Marengo's Shane Rankins to fumble ball during first quarter of Northwest Suburban Conference game. Marengo was driving toward Grayslake goalline at time and Rams took over from there, winning 19-0. Grayslake hosts Lake Zurich Oct. 24 in annual Homecoming game. Timm West applies hit to Rankins as Mark Paszek and Brian Kildew look on. — Photo by Steve Peterson.

Carmel ends 15-yr. jinx, Niles next

More than a cold front swept over the northeastern hub of Illinois during the Carmel Corsair, St. Viator game on Friday. A tide-turning, gut-wrenching Corsair win broke more than a 15-year losing streak to the Lions.

"This has really taken the monkey off the kids' backs," said Carmel Coach Mike Fitzgibbons. The Corsairs needed the victory to keep in contention for the playoffs. The Corsairs will have to fly high to hurdle over Notre Dame in Niles, Friday at 8 p.m. to keep their post season play hopes alive.

Leading in the fourth quarter 12-7 with less than three minutes to play, Carmel tried to duplicate a fake punt the Lions had successfully completed for a first down. A late delay of game whistle blew the play dead, not to mention the scheme. The Corsairs, now backed up to a fourth and nine on their own 34 yard line, had to go with a legitimate punt. After the snap, Mark Stanczak had difficulty holding onto the ball, along with his poise.

Stanczak picked up the ball, took four steps and gave the option of running the ball a second thought. Stanczak then opted to kick the ball seconds before being smothered under a pack of Lions. The ball was in the air, Stanczak was on the ground, and yellow kerchiefs from every direction flew across the field.

The reason, roughing the kicker. Why? New rule.

One of the new rules this season in high school football states that even if the punter drops the ball and still proceeds to get the punt away, he cannot be run into by defensivemen.

"I guess a lot of the coaches and others are worried about punters' and kickers' bodies. It's a good rule; I'm pretty happy about it," Fitzgibbons said. Why not, it gave the Corsairs a first down and the chance to pine away the final two minutes.

The Corsairs, deeming themselves as the "Yeah, baby," team of the week, kicked off the first quarter with a 49 yard, touch down pass to John Monahan, who broke down the left side of the field and swept into the endzone. Carmel failed the two-point conversion.

"It's not that we wanted to rack up all the points possible for security, it's just that we didn't have our kicker (Alden Zimlich) until the fourth quarter. He was playing in a East Suburban Catholic Conference championship soccer game. We won that too," Fitzgibbons added.

With 2:03 left in the first quarter, senior runningback Donell Foster broke down field for an 83 yard run off a pitch from quarterback Thad Sutter.

The scoring drive, which started from the Corsair 14 yard line, ran all of two plays. Though the Corsairs had racked up nearly 260 yards, they returned the yardage to St. Viator by tallying 147 yards in penalties.

St. Viator took charge in the fourth quarter behind the running of junior Brian Dunlavy. A time consuming drive (20 plays) drove the Lions from their own 32 yard line to a three-yard, Dunlavy, touchdown run. Dunlavy was handed the ball 12 times in the drive.

Carmel was held to two possessions and two first downs in the fourth quarter.

Antioch aims to rebound after close loss

Antioch will be hoping to end two weeks of emotional, close-but-no-cigar football when the Sequoits host Fenton in their annual Homecoming game Oct. 24.

The Sequoits come into the contest at 3-4 and were eliminated from the playoff race with a 21-14 overtime loss at Stevenson last week. That, coupled with a 16-14 loss at home to Warren, and you have a Sequoit club wondering what it takes to win.

"It's been two frustrating weeks. We're not playing bad football; we just need that little extra to win," Antioch coach Steve Wapon said.

In Fenton, the Sequoits will be facing a team that is winless in seven games so far. But Wapon warns that his team could be 3-5 if it looks past the Bison.

"They have a quarterback that can throw the ball well and up until this week (a 42-19 loss to Lake Forest), they have not been losing by much," Wapon said of Fenton.

Antioch coming into the contest will be hoping that fullback Brandon Hanigan will be able to play an entire game. He injured a shoulder against Stevenson and his absence was noticeable from Antioch's ground attack. Without Hanigan's blocking, Stevenson held tailback David Wick to 111 yards in 43 carries, only a 2.6 yards-per-carry average.

Antioch dominated the scoring in the first half, leading 14-7 at half time. Wick scored both of the Sequoits' touchdowns. The first was a two-yard run with 2:50 left in the first quarter. His second was a one-yard plunge halfway through the second quarter. Wick scored for the two-point conversion.

Stevenson's first half touchdowns came on a 47-yard pass from D.J. McCullough to Mike Valdes.

"Stevenson did a better job of moving the football and they put the clamps on Wick," Wapon said of the second half.

Johnsburg, Wauconda contest is battle for both teams' pride

You could call it the "Pride Bowl".

Johnsburg and Wauconda, two teams with nothing to lose, will battle it out for pride Oct. 24. Game time in Wauconda is 1 p.m.

"Wauconda has to be feeling they can win this game. It's playing for pride now. You'll see two teams that are real fired up," Johnsborg coach Mike Roberts said.

Both teams are coming off lopsided losses in league play last week. Wauconda, after throwing a scare into Marian Central early by almost scoring, lost to the league leaders 28-0.

Johnsburg fell to Round Lake 26-6. Johnsborg comes into the game with a 2-5 overall record, 1-4 in Northwest Suburban Conference play. Wauconda is winless in seven games.

For Wauconda, one of the keys will be try and stop the tricky of Johnsborg.

"They do quite a bit of different things on offense," Wauconda coach Fred Loffredo said of Johnsborg.

Runningback Erik Mellum is Johnsborg's biggest threat, by quarterback Bill Gahlback does have top wide receiver Jon Pigott to use as a threat Pigott caught Johnsborg's only touchdown pass against Round Lake. Piggott had five catches for 65 yards.

In the Round Lake game, Johnsborg coach Roberts was somewhat pleased at halftime as his team trailed only 11-6.

"We thought we were in pretty good shape. They just dominated us in the second half. They ran the ball pretty well on us," Roberts said.

"What hurt them in the second half was field position and the wind," Loffredo, who scout the game, said.

Trailing 9-0, Gahlbeck found Piggott open for a 26-yard TD to trim the lead to 9-6. Later in the quarter, Johnsborg was forced to take a safety and the Panthers led 11-6.

Round Lake then put the game away with two third quarter touchdowns.

At Marian Central Friday, it took the host Hurricanes a quarter to get on track.

Once they did, quarterback Jim Hartlieb directed the offense to two touchdown drives. The first ended with a two-yard quarterback keeper. The second ended on an 11-yard pass from Hartlieb to Greg Geils.

MC made it 21-0 in the third quarter when Jim Reed scored from eight yards out. Marian scored its final touchdown in the third period on a punt return. Pete Huinker outraced the Bulldogs punt team for 65 yards.

Offensively for Wauconda, Loffredo said quarterback Mark Sutherland is improving on passing. Against Marian Central, he completed eight-of-14 passes for 76 yards.

Rams aim for fourth straight, playoffs on line for Bears

The two hottest teams in the Northwest Suburban Conference will clash at Grayslake at Grayslake's Homecoming Oct. 24.

For the Bears, the contest is a must-win situation to keep their playoff hopes alive. For the host Rams, the contest is an opportunity to win their fourth straight game and set up a shot at a winning season.

Both teams are coming off wins - Lake Zurich thumped Grant 24-0 while Grayslake put the race for the second NWSC playoff spot into confusion for another week with a 19-0 upset win over Marengo.

"We still have two more to go," Lake Zurich coach Wayne Kuklinski said after LZ's win. The victory gave the Bears a 3-2 NWSC record, 4-3 overall. Grant and Marengo also have the same records with two games left.

Both squads feature ball-control offense, but Grayslake quarterback Timm West completed two touchdown passes against Marengo.

The Lake Zurich win over the defending league champions marked a successful christening of the new lights in Lake Zurich. After missing on several first-half chances, Lake Zurich's offense behind quarterback Todd Kuklinski exploded in the second half for 17 points.

"In the first half we did not take advantage of our opportunities, but in the second half we did," Coach Kuklinski said.

The first half's only score came early. Lake Zurich's Mike Bailee returned a Grant punt 35 yards for a 7-0 lead with the game less than two minutes old.

The hosts had chances after that but were thwarted by the Grant defense. Kevin Frystak, who is usually noted for his ballcarrying abilities, picked off a Kuklinski pass at the Grant two to stop a Lake Zurich march.

In the third quarter, the offense did once again proved that fans should be in their seats before the second-half kickoff. By the time the third quarter was half over, Lake Zurich scored twice more for a 17-0 lead.

A 21-yard run by Chris Boucher brought the ball to the Grant 34. Two plays later, Kuklinski did the honors as the quarterback scampered in from four yards out.

After a Grant punt, a pass from Kuklinski to Eric Walker was good for 15 yards. A personal foul against the Bulldogs gave Lake Zurich the ball at the Grant 33. John Koester broke free for 20 yards to the 12. After two runs, Scott Krezeminski snatched a five-yard TD toss from Kuklinski.

Koester set up the final LZ score in the third quarter. His interception gave the Bears the ball at Lake Zurich's 48. After an incomplete pass and a short gainer, Kuklinski completed passes to Boucher and Krezeminski to bring the ball to the Grant 22. After a run, Kuklinski scored his second touchdown of the night for a 24-0 lead two minutes into the final quarter.

As Mother Nature unleashed a downpour of rain, the Bulldogs made their best stand to score. Frystak carried the ball four times, including a 30-yard gainer, and the Bulldogs moved the ball from their own 25. They reached the Lake Zurich one, needing one more yard for a score. The Bears' interior line, though, rose to the occasion and stopped Frystak.

"That's just a matter of pride in yourself. We had a shutout and we were not going to let the score," Lake Zurich defensive coordinator Joe Kedzior said.

Kedzior credited Rib Squier and Koester with making key hits.

Panthers, 'Dogs clash means rivalry, Grant's playoff future

When Round Lake and Grant meet on the football field, its time, as the old saying goes, to throw away the season records and wipe the slate clean.

"It should be a great game. It does not matter what the record is. Round Lake and Grant is a great rivalry. We expect 4,000 people," Round Lake coach Mike Dunn said.

Even if the crowd at Round Lake reaches half that amount, what they will be watching Oct. 23 is a contest pitting two Northwest Suburban Conference teams fighting for survival. For the host Panthers (2-3, 3-4) a win over the Bulldogs would mean another shot at a winning season. Grant (3-2, 4-3) would appear to have more on the line, as a win is needed to keep dwindling playoff hopes alive.

Round Lake, a pre-season favorite to win it all in the NWSC, has been a team which has had to overcome key injuries. Dunn said the performance of the replacements was a key reason behind a 26-6 win at Johnsbury Saturday.

"We have a lot of underclassmen playing and they are starting to get the jobs done," Dunn said.

Among those not in the starting lineup in August but starting in October are: cornerback Doug Karaszewski; safety John Rebellato; guard Greg Hanson and Eric Whipkey. With the exception of Whipkey, all are juniors.

Against Johnsbury, the Round Lake offense came to live early, scoring nine points in the first quarter.

"The offense got into gear," Dunn said.

Round Lake featured a balanced running attack which ate up yards against the host Skyhawks. Laphanso Woods had 135 yards in 23 carries, an average of 5.8 yards a carry; Arron Meeke had 76 yards in 26 tries and quarterback Todd Collis racked up 71 yards in seven carries.

Defensively, the Panthers caused Johnsbury to fumble four times.

After a field goal by Dave Sherman, Woods scored the visitors' first touchdown in the first quarter for a 9-0 lead.

Johnsbury then came right back to score its only touchdown of the game. Quarterback Bill Gahlbeck found wide receiver Jon Piggott open for a 26-yard strike that closed the gap to 9-6.

Johnsbury had to take a safety in the second quarter for an 11-6 Round Lake lead.

Round Lake then put the game away in the third quarter. Meeke scored two short-range touchdowns, one from one yard and another from two and tallied a two-point conversion.

Seeking yardage

Grant runner Kevin Frystak attempts to elude Johnsbury defender during Northwest Suburban Conference tilt. Grant is at Round Lake Oct. 23. Bulldogs are hoping to keep playoff chances alive.

DOCTORS FORUM

By Dr. Chris Bowman

Today's article deals with eye injuries. Eye injuries can be extremely painful if the eyeball is scraped because the nerve fibers to the eye are very sensitive. A person's eye will usually shut tightly making examination difficult. The goal of first aid in an eye injury is directed at protecting the eye from further damage, along with decreasing the swelling. First cover the eye with sterile gauze to avoid further damage. Children with eye injuries should have their hands secured so they cannot touch the eye. If swelling is present apply an ice pack to decrease the swelling. Follow-up with your family physician immediately with any eye injury.

Small objects in the eye usually result in tearing, blinking and a discomfort along with a sensation of something in the eye. The first aid starts by laying the person on their back. Clasp the upper eyelash between the thumb and index finger and fold the lid back over a cotton swab. Have the person look down and rinse the eye with plain lukewarm water for at least five minutes. If the object cannot be washed out, immediately call your family doctor.

The Doctors Forum is brought to you as a public service from the Heritage Medical Center in Antioch, Illinois. For more information call (312) 395-0085.

Chasing Wick

Stevenson defenders Mark Joseph and Chris Holders close in on Antioch runner David Wick. Patriots won overtime thriller 21p14. Stevenson is at Warren Oct. 23 while Antioch hosts Fenton in Homecoming game Oct. 24.

Pats' kickers improve

Stevenson's soccer program has good reason to look forward to next year.

The Patriots' sophomores, under the direction of coach Randy Anderson, have blitzed opponents to the tune of 18 wins in 19 games. The sophs won the sophomore North Suburban Conference title, finishing at 8-0. "These kids in the last two years have only lost two games," Anderson said.

The sophs were led by Adam Grylas and Nate Osicla on offense and Tristan Nepote on defense. Goalie Keith Mayfield has also turned in a consistent year, Anderson said.

Carmel notches soccer title

Carmel's boys soccer team is hoping an East Suburban Catholic Conference championship will translate into momentum for regional play.

The Corsairs take a 15-2-2 record into the first regional game against Grayslake at Carmel Oct. 24. The Corsairs ended the regular season with 3-2 win over Cary Grove. Rod Bustamonte scored two goals and Steve Lamarre one for CHS.

Coach Tom Ragen is hoping Carmel does not get complacent.

"That's a concern anytime you play a young team," he said.

Ragen said the key win in the league season was a 3-1 win over St. Viator.

Carmel's big threats on offense this year were Bustamonte, who had 25 goals and eight assists and Chris Iantono, who had 23 goals and 18 assists.

If Carmel beats Grayslake, it next faces the winner of the Lake Zurich-Wauconda match Oct. 27 at CHS.
